JACKSONIAN 1969-70

ANDREW JACKSON HIGH SCHOOL
SOUTH BEND
INDIANA
VOL. 5

This is our world—our world of Jackson High School. Ours is a crazy world, full of plate lunches and parental release forms. Our world has a history, crammed with such events as the Battles of Hoyer Hill and the Little 500 Bicycle Race. The Jackson globe is filled with the pageantry of proms and courts and the showmanship of music programs and school plays. The people of this world work on worthy projects like the AFS and Thanksgiving basket drives.

This world is part of another world, the Earth. It's also a little crazy, with some men starving because they haven't enough to eat and others starving themselves because they eat too much. This world has a much broader history, with such events as man's first step on the moon. It has the pageantry and showmanship of the World's Fairs. Teams of its people work on projects such as heart transplants and control of pollution.

The 1970 Jacksonian presents the story of our world of Jackson High School to our other world, the Earth. This is the story of .....

Our World in Our World.

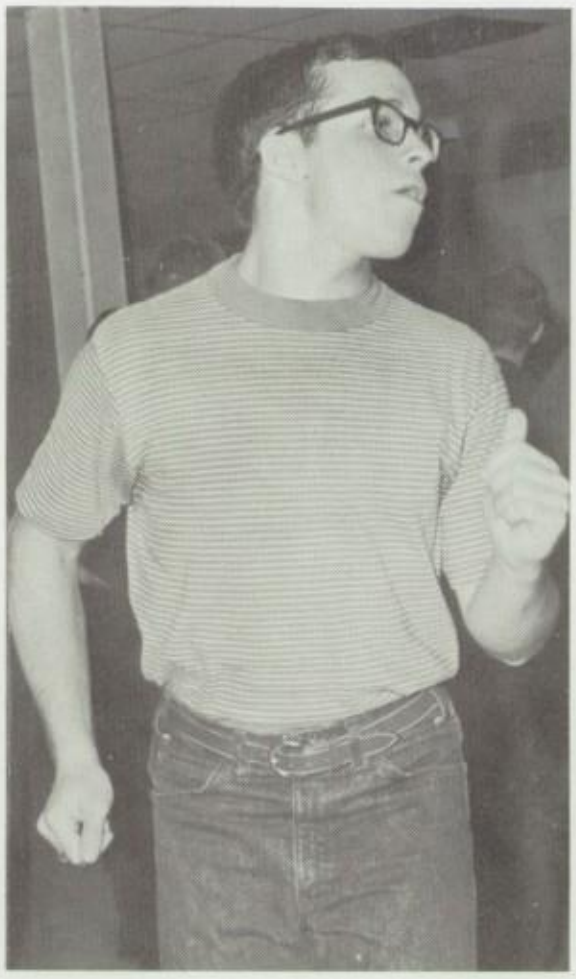
Little 500, Ugly Girls Sponsor AFS'ers

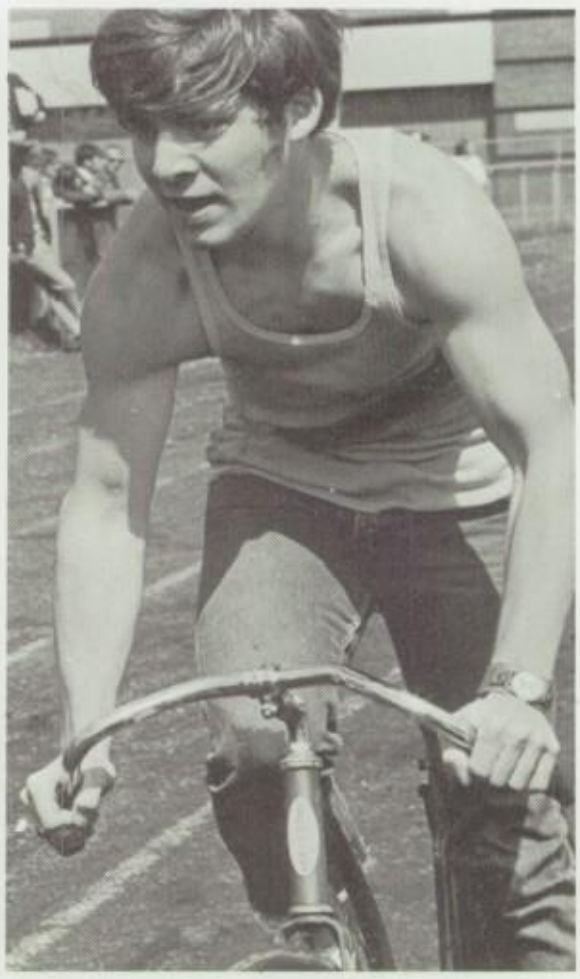
Culminating the traditional AFS fund-raising drive, the Little 500 race proved an exciting first in JHS history. A take-off on the Indianapolis 500, the race provided fun for Tiger fans as they cheered their teams on. The race was enhanced by antics of the riders and the fever pitch spirit of the viewers.

An "Ugly Girl" contest was also held to raise funds.

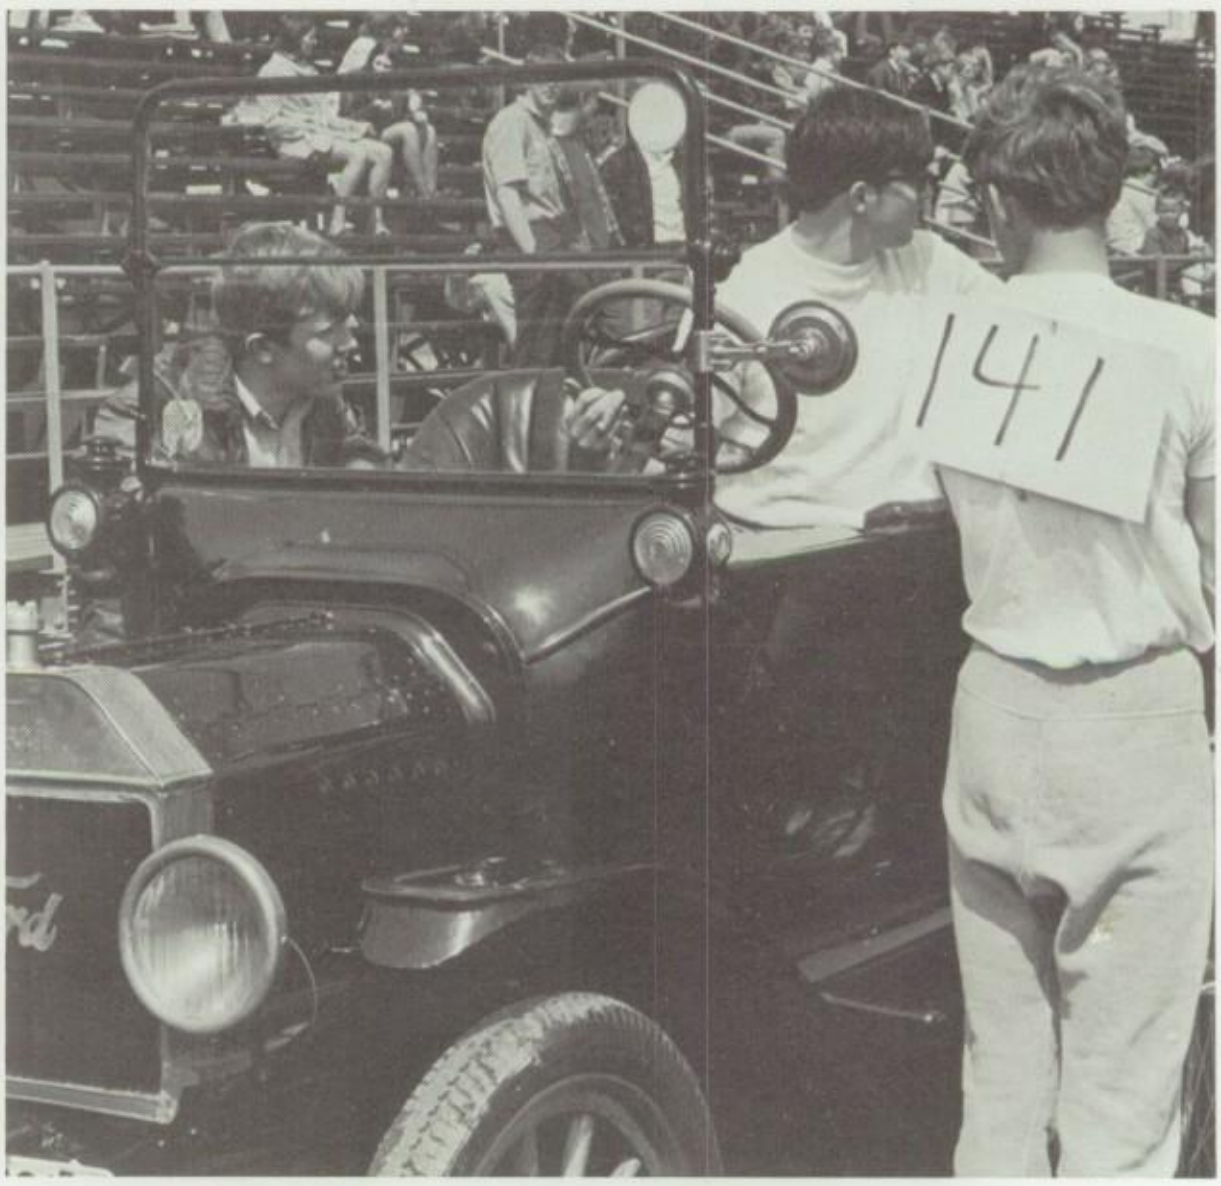
EAGERLY GRABBING for pennies are "Ugly Girls" Terri Trammell, Sally McDermott, and Cindy Springer.



GREG NALL displays his version of "the Hitch-hike" at the Little 500 dance.



CRAIG ROTHE HOPES his last bit of wind will last for the final lap.



THE PACE CAR is ready to begin as riders line up for the race.

Most Jacksonites Work at Summer Jobs

SOPHOMORE LARRY OWENS sweeps up the remnants of an afternoon of housework.

Jackson students spend their summers in many different ways. Many take summer jobs and make money while they learn. Others work around their homes, building patios, setting up flag poles, painting and replastering.

Some of us spend our summer "on the road." We head for all corners of our great nation; a few are even fortunate enough to leave it a l t o g e t h e r and visit foreign countries.

Some students, along with most of our teachers, spend the summer gathering knowledge at institutes and workshops.

Whatever we do, we enjoy summer in our world.

AL ZIMMERMANN (left) uses a commercial roller to paint, while his sister Karen tries a more subtle approach. The Zimmermanns painted their spare room this fall.

PART TIME JOBS brought unusual experiences to summer participants. Mike Rose struggles to fit a customer.

PRUNING SHRUBS and tending the grounds are chores designated to Debra Risner.

On Any Warm Weekend Tigers Take Tower Hill

Summer comes and the hot sun beats down on a mass of uncaged Tigers. To beat the heat, the Jackson populace disperses to nearby beaches, including Tower Hill, probably the most popular of area beaches.

At Tower Hill, Jacksonites soak up sun, build sand castles, swim, and surf. And most of all, they build memories. Memories of wonderful, sunny afternoons that will last a life time.

WARM SUNSHINE, white mountains, and waves rippling around our feet drown out thoughts of school, homework, and the rest of the outside world.

RACING THROUGH SAND to surf are Ann Brown, Linda Spalding, Lisa Heller, Pat Shidaker, Laura Strycker, Bruce Crowel, Al Taggart, Chuck Poczik, Jack Leary, Randy Stoeckinger, and Roger Stahl.

HAVING FORGOTTEN her lunch, Lisa Heller demonstrates JHS resourcefulness.

EXUBERANT YELLS and unprecedented spirit are trademarks of "Senior Power."

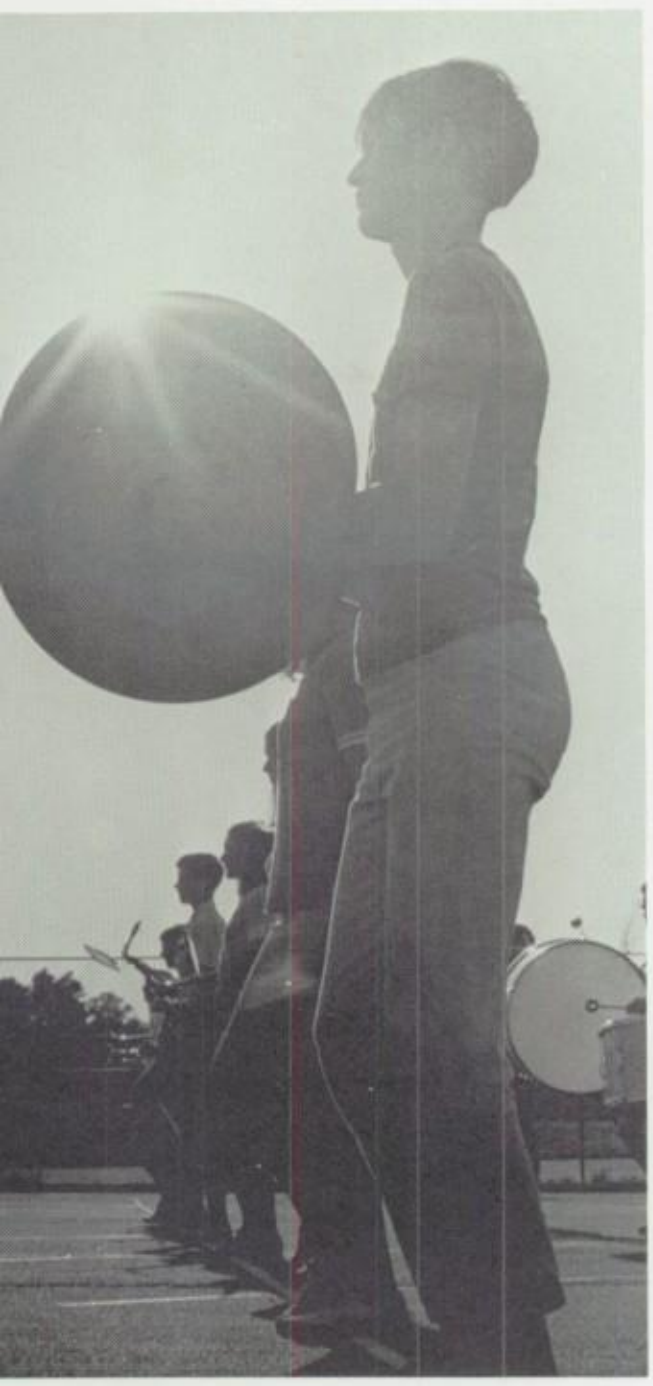
FRESHMEN EXPERIENCE FEAR, excitement, and wonder on that first 'tense' day.

Jackson Enters Fifth 'Spirited' Year

Summer finally passes us by. Autumn comes. Football and marching band practices start. Students go shopping for new school wardrobes. One last night "out on the town," and then . . .

It happens. Andrew Jackson High School "opens for business" again. Freshmen enter the world of JHS for the first time, while seniors prepare to bid it farewell. Football and tennis seasons start, along with the subscription drive. The booster club and cheerleaders plan our first pep assembly. Homework again shows its ugly head.

FRESHMAN, SOPHOMORE, JUNIOR, and senior spirit reached an all-time high this year, but the team spirit was the major cause of Jackson pride.



HOURS OF PRE-SCHOOL preparation enable music makers to achieve perfection.

ALL SYSTEMS GO for takeoff, Tom Gostola mans control of his Cherokee.

"TONIGHT," with Dennis Lynch and Betsy DeCroes, boosted subscription sales.

MARK SCHURR PROVES "scouting makes the man" as he and his troops go hiking.

'Adventure' Is Hiking, Flying, Cycling

The average Jackson student leads an exciting life. We all do our own adventurous "thing." Many of us find excitement in driving cars and motorcycles. Tigerfish take to the water with their scuba gear. Other Tigers fly planes or climb mountains. Some go hiking or camping.

Some Jacksonites find excitement in summer stock and school plays. Still others take part in music programs. Then, of course, there is the exciting world of Jackson publications. But no matter what we do, we do it with traditional Jackson spirit.

"TRUE GRIT" is shown by Rick Sprague as he plays a solo with a "broken arm."

SCRAMBLING OVER OPEN FIELDS is the pastime of Yamaha owner Steve Ford.

SOPHOMORE KEN ZELTNER, portraying a somewhat bedraggled St. Joseph Indian, awaits his fate at the mouth of the Tiger. Fans saw the float for the first time on the football field at half-time. The float took two weeks to build.

VICIOUS TIGER Dave Young demonstrates the punishment for Jackson opponents.

"VICTORY IS JUST A SWALLOW AWAY!" boasted the 1969 Homecoming float. Being engulfed by the massive Tiger head, Ann Brown adds some papier mache to the jaws.

Homecoming Promotes 'Jackson Pride'

Breaking tradition, this year's Homecoming was held with St. Joe instead of LaSalle. Holly Heemstra was crowned queen during halftime ceremonies.

The junior class won the hall decoration contest and the bonfire held behind the school on the night before the game helped to build school spirit in more ways than one. Even though our supply of wood was burned by vandals two nights before the date set for the fire, students worked together and managed to build up another pile as large as the first.

The Jackson float, titled "Victory is Just a Swallow Away," featured a large orange-and-black tiger swallowing an Indian.

We lost the game, 22-14.

SILHOUETTED BY THE St. Joe bonfire, Kitty Gates promotes enthusiasm.

GLOWING EXCITEDLY are homecoming royalty Holly Heemstra and Chuck Poczik.

SHARING A TANDEM, Sandy Neidigh and Rick Sprague stop by the roadside to admire the autumn scenery.

"UP WITH PEOPLE", goodwill ambassadors, radiated happiness at JHS.

Making Friends Is Best Part of School

Friendships flourish in the classroom, the cafeteria, and the gym. Ideas are exchanged; myths are exploded. Jacksonites often complain about being too busy, but most of them seek "involvement" for fun and satisfaction.

One imaginative scheme was a random sample poll at Christmas time which asked "Which Jackson teacher would make the best Santa Claus?" The winner, Mr. Al Bias, was persuaded to pose for an Old Hickory photographer in a costume especially created for the occasion.

WHEN BETSY DECROES EXPOUNDS on her philosophy, classmates Loretta Baxter and Jeff Botich are not likely to underestimate the power of a woman.

FRIENDSHIP IS . . . being invited to sign the cast on the girl behind you.

"A SANTA WITH SOUL" was Mr. Al Bias in a beard made of cotton balls.

Involvement Takes on Many

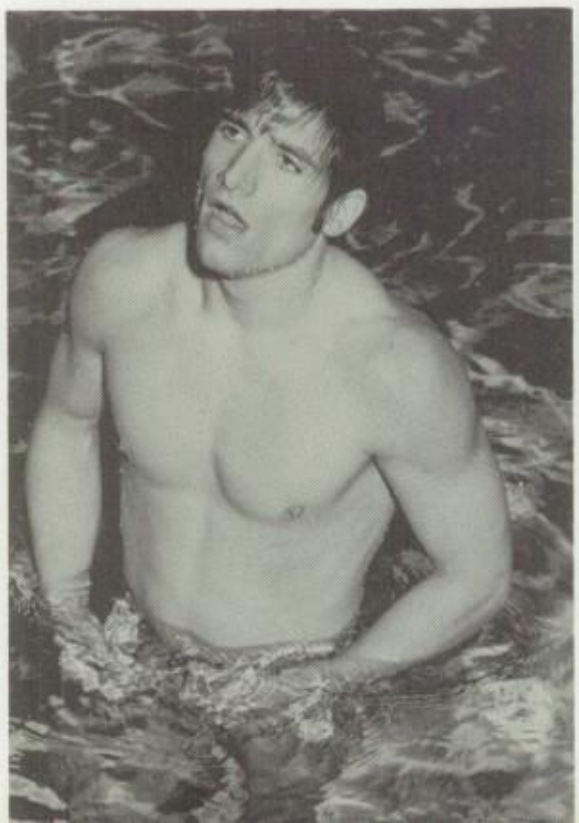
Evasion of studies shows itself in many ways. Some of us interest ourselves in sports activities, either through participation or as spectators. Some rely on outside interests to break up the monotony of textbooks.

The variety of experiences offer an added scope and meaning to our lives. The anxiety during a tense moment of a game, the satisfaction of helping others in need, physical exhaustion after a race and mental exhaustion after a test all are a part of existence in our world.

OFFERING AID and comfort to the bedridden, Shelley Wittner spends her spare time candy striping.

BRIAN MICKOW awaits the timers' verdict after the 100 butterfly.

ELAINE WOLFE tells class of the qualities of an old-fashioned dress.



GEORGE WOOLLEY finds cross country can be exhilarating but exhausting.

Varied Forms

STUDYING THE DARING ADVENTURES of the Submariner appears to be more interesting to Norm Crider than grammatical diagrams and verb conjugations.

ART DEPARTMENT HEAD Mr. Robert Thomas listens to a student's problem.

A ROMAN impatient for his dinner is portrayed by Vicki Hughes during a "home movie."

Excessive Snow Fails to Dampen Spirits

On Jan. 8, at the end of third hour, chaos broke loose as the voice of Principal James Early announced the closing of school due to heavy snow.

Immediately students evacuated classrooms and headed for the cafeteria, where lunches were being served. Tigers with cars left the building, while others remained in the gym.

Shortly after school was dismissed, snowmobiles began to appear in the driveways and parking lots. Snowball fights broke out on the front sidewalk. Students pushed stalled cars in an effort to start engines. Finally, buses arrived and transported people home.

The cold and snow may have been enough to stop school, but nothing can stop the pursuit of fun.

DEBBIE PIERCE AIMS carefully in retaliation after an ambush.

SLIDES, SPILLS, and thrills are all in the game as JHSers enjoy an icy slope.

STEVE TRENKNER and Rick Kohlmeyer indulge in an afternoon of skiing.

ALTHOUGH THE WEATHER outside is really frightful the beauty of the freshly fallen snow captures the wishful thinking of freshman Jane Merriman.

IT'S USUALLY a convenience to drive to school but many students discover the hazards of a winter blizzard when they are forced to push a snowbound car.

THE MANGEBOIS sisters, portrayed by Pat Nuner and Ann Brown, look on as Rick Hammond pleads with the Inspector.

INSPECTOR Bill McGrath makes plans for the ghost's murder with the executioners Mark Slagle and Dick Samuels.

'The Enchanted' Features Comedy, Ghost

DISMAY, SHOCK, and sorrow are displayed by the "little girls" as the doctor delivers his verdict. Thus the ghost farce is dropped and a real ghost is born.

Critic and patron-acclaimed, "The Enchanted," Jackson's first play of the '69-'70 season, is the story of Isabel, a French schoolteacher in the early 1900's, who falls in love with a ghost.

Director John H. B. Kauss cast Betsy DeCroes as Isabel, while Chris McVay played the part of the ghost. As the supervisor, Dennis Lynch was a young man torn between political duty and his love for Isabel. Rick Hammond and Bill McGrath, as eccentric public officials, added humor.

Sets by the art department enhanced the magic of the play.

THE INSPECTOR incurs Suzy Wright's wrath by killing her caterpillar.

ENCHANTED BY THE TOUCH of his hand, Betsy DeCroes freezes as the ghost, played by Chris McVay, enters for their midnight rendezvous.

Musical 'Babes in Arms' Presented

Dramatists and musicians combined their talents for the presentation of Rogers and Hart's musical comedy "Babes in Arms." The show centered around the frolics and follies of the group of teenagers who work at the Sand and Surf summer stock theater in Cape Cod.

The 43-member cast and 25-piece orchestra told the 1940's story through various songs, including "The Lady is a Tramp," "Johnny One Note," and "I Wish I Were in Love Again."

The play, which was directed by Mr. John H. B. Kauss, featured Betsy DeCroes and Dennis Lynch as co-owners of the theater. Dale Anderson was Valentine White, a budding young composer, and Sue Miller played Jennifer Owen, star of the Silver screen. Rick Hammond gave an outstanding performance as Gus Field and Jane Merriman, as Susie, an apprentice.

BETSY DECROES bursts into her own interpretation of "The Lady is a Tramp".

"METRO'S LITTLE DIVIDEND," Sue Miller, inspires Dale Anderson into song.

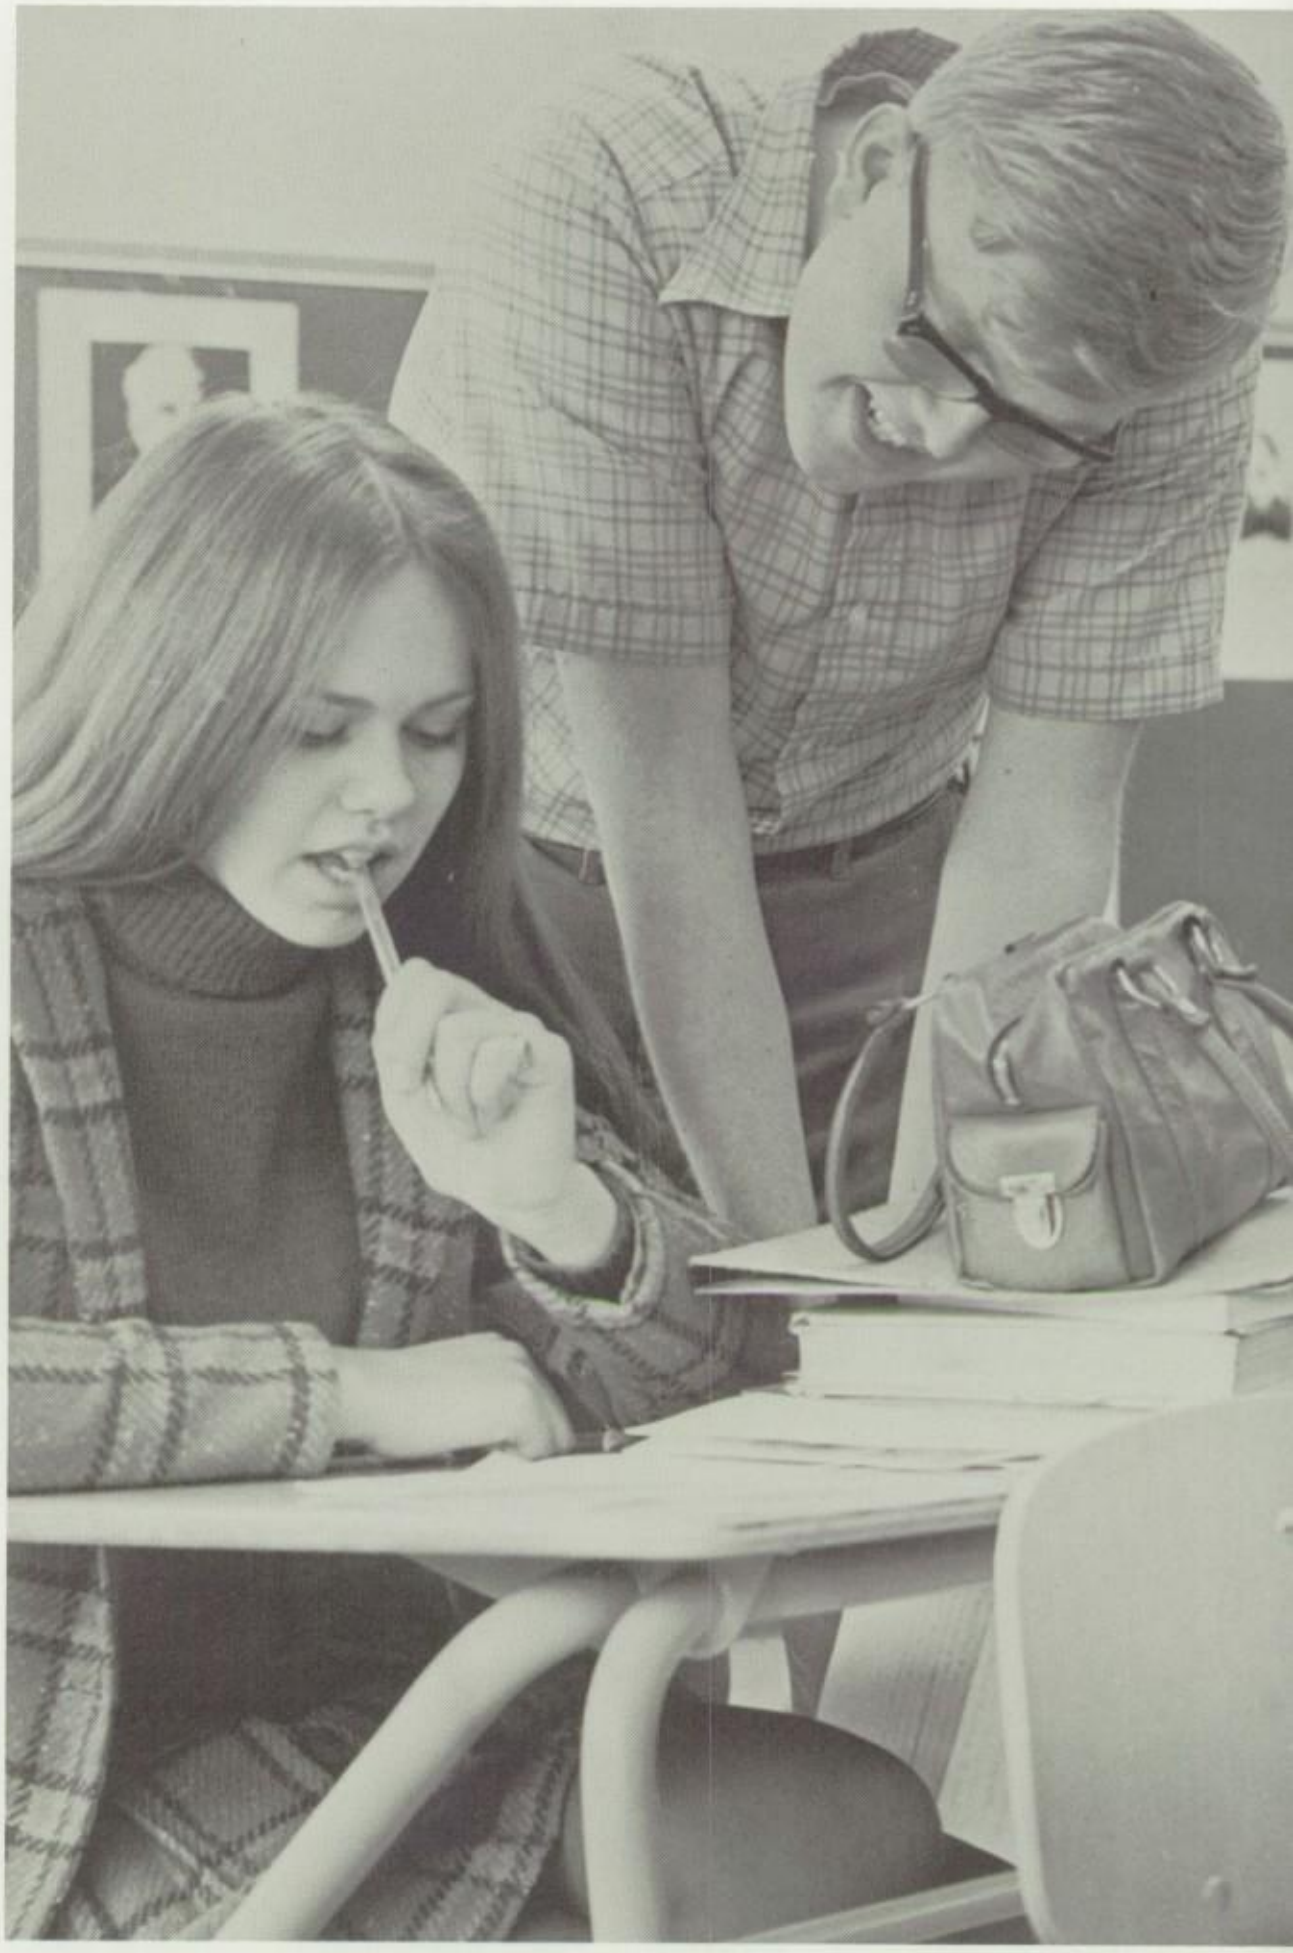
Journalism Provides Creative Outlet

Hard work, not only during school, but also after school and on weekends, was responsible for this year's Old Hickory and Jacksonian.

The student photographers, headed by Jack Drake, took pictures at school events throughout the year. Dann Schultz, as advertising manager, worked for both publications. Kathy Streed was in charge of the paper, while Craig Merrick edited the Jacksonian.

Rick Hammond was the award-winning sports editor of the Jacksonian and Dick Samuels was layout editor. Vicki Hughes handled feature stories for the paper and Karen Groves worked with layouts.



SEEKING ASSISTANCE from Jacksonian editor-in-chief Craig Merrick, Nancy Claus wonders "Is this cutline okay, or is it too schmaltzy?"

TERESA KUBLEY and Rick Hammond brighten up the yearbook room walls with posters and other paraphernalia.

ONE OF THE ADVANTAGES of being newspaper editor is the chance to meet celebrities. Kathy Streed interviews psychic Jeane Dixon.

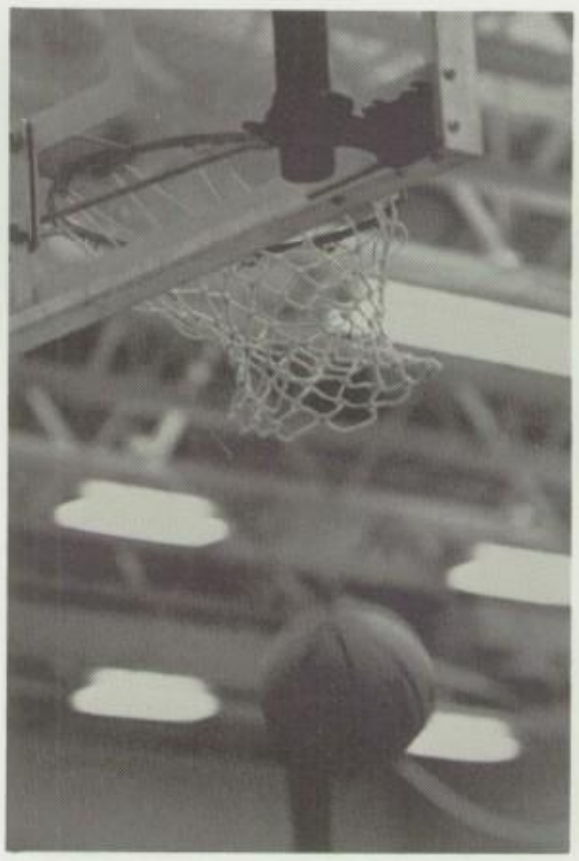
BETTI REECE, Karen Groves, and Mike Rader pick out details for a caption.

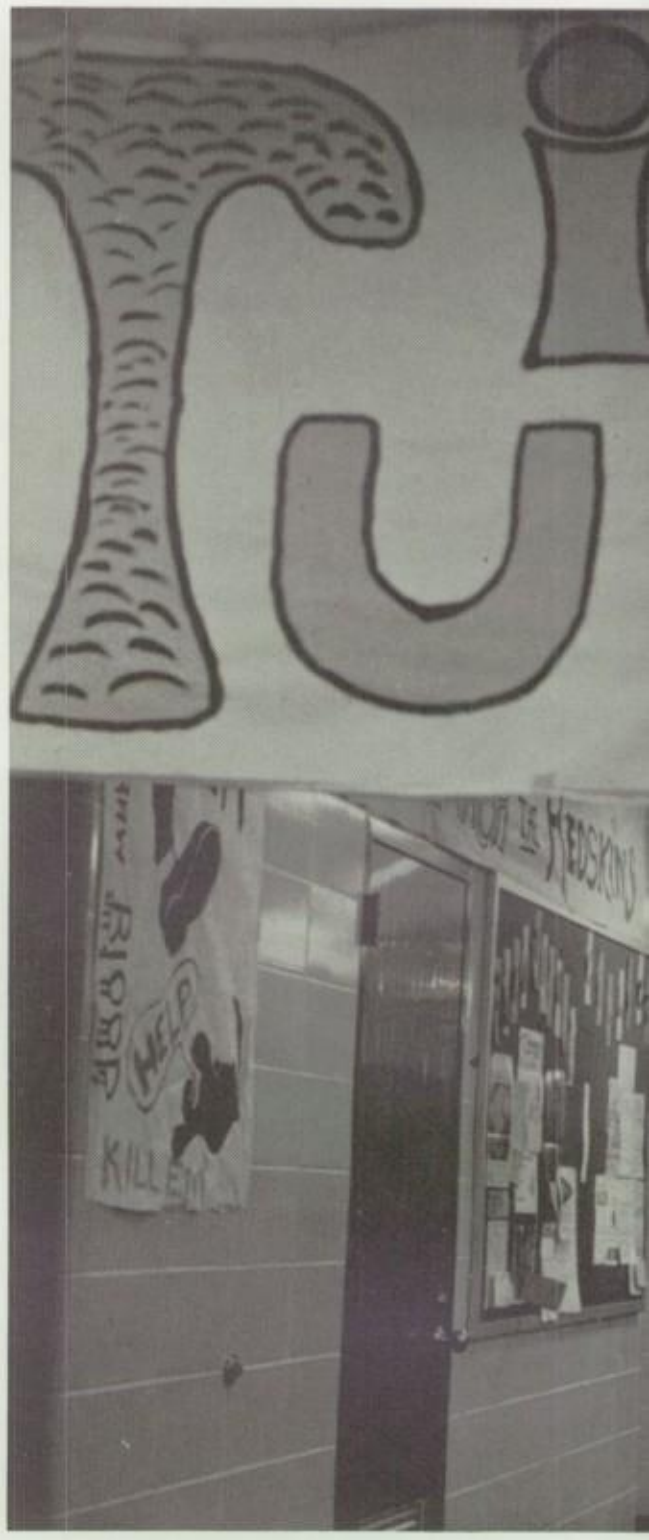
'Doing Our Own Thing'

American youth's resounding cry in 1969-1970 was "Do your own thing," and we did. Whether it was swimming three miles a day, playing "Oh Susannah" on the harmonica, or keeping a bowl of goldfish in a locker, it was "in" if it reflected our "real" personality.

Our moods were changeable to fit the occasion—merry or melancholy, philosophical or fearful, lazy or longing, looking for happiness in our world.

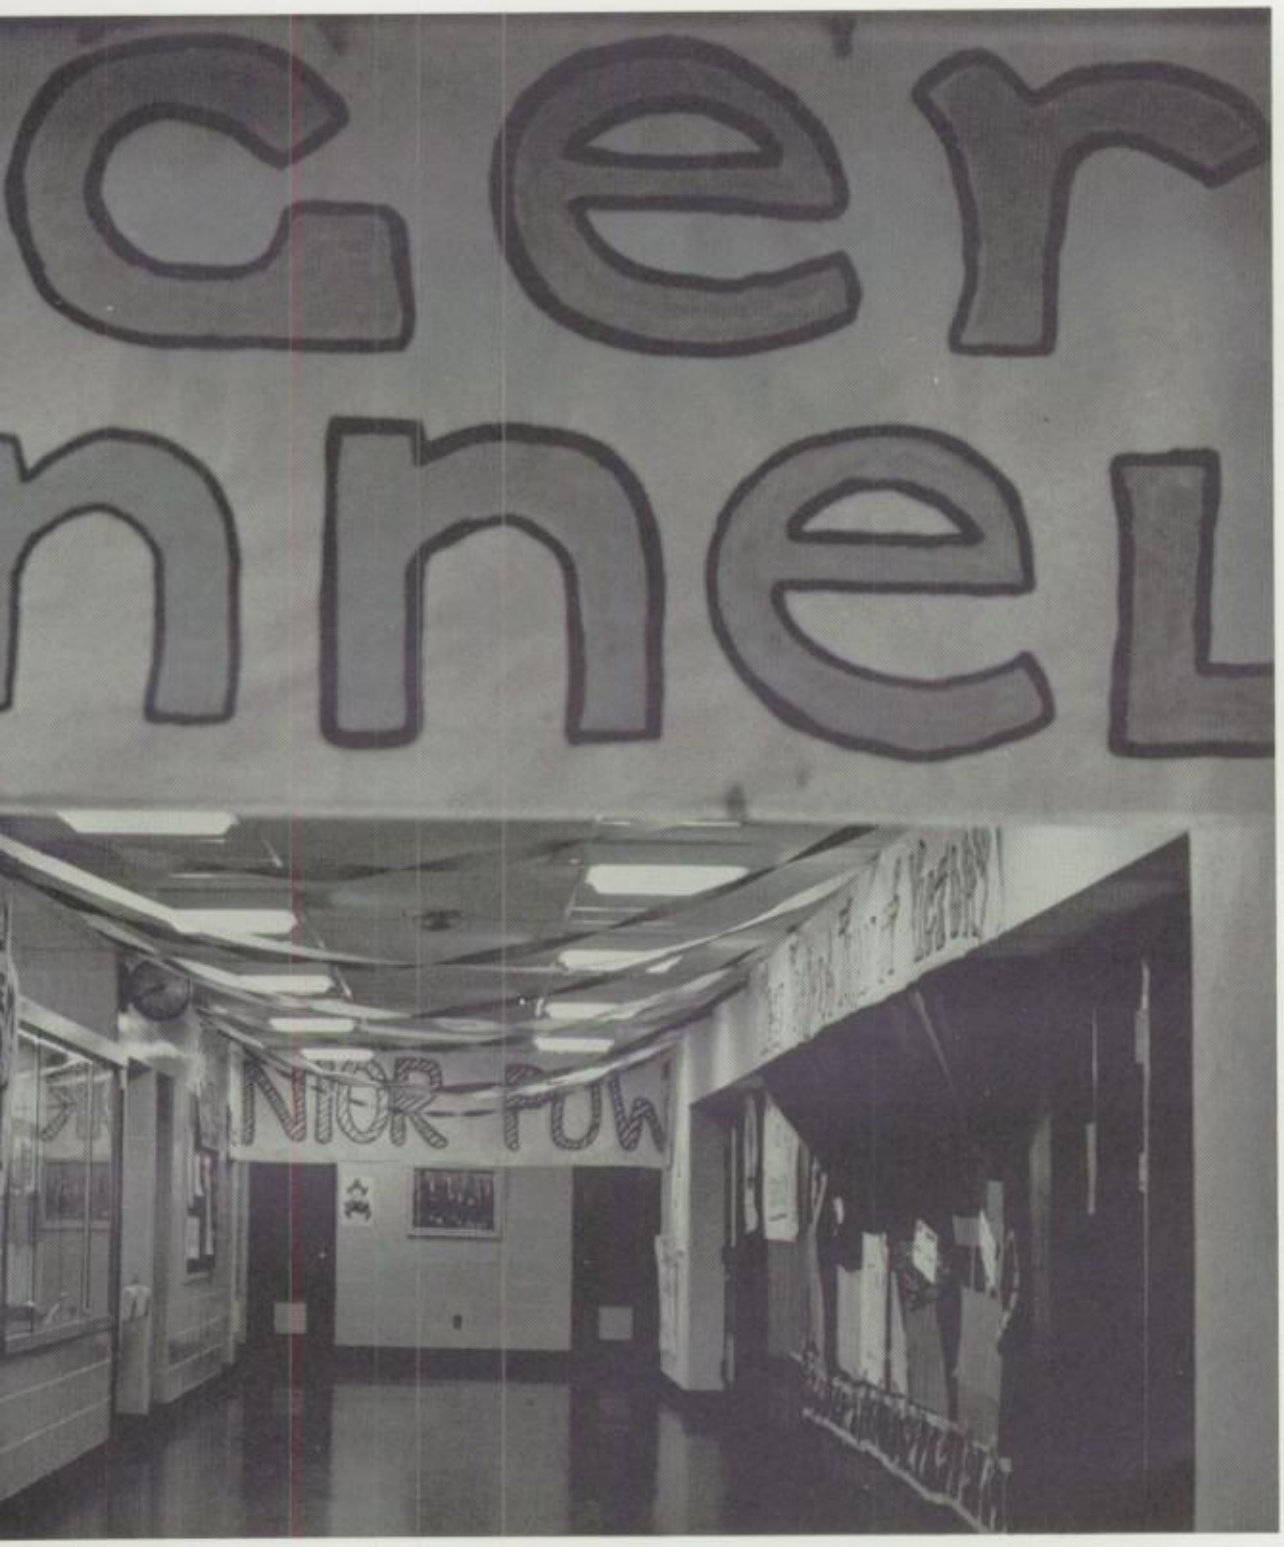
CO-CAPTAIN Steve Claus concentrates on team strategy during a meet.





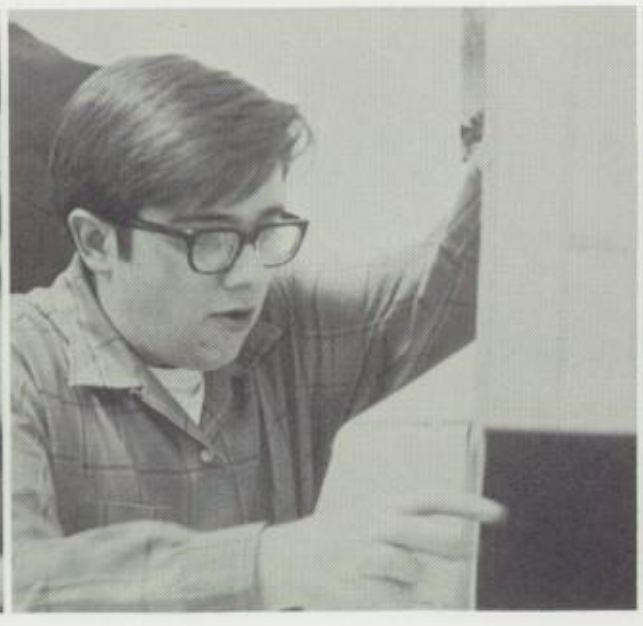
JACKSON STUDENTS doing their own thing are: Craig Moore, Nancy Tibbetts, Scott Jessup, Kathy McCarthy, Rick Hammond, and Steve Slagle.

Meant Playing the Harmonica or Swimming



EVEN IN THE RAIN, Gretchen Woodcox and Floyd Husvar enjoy a football game.

MANY HOURS of hard work and plenty of imagination went into decorating the halls for Spirit Week.



Shonkwiler Named First Homecoming King

A turnabout dance and the crowning of the first homecoming king were added to the basketball homecoming festivities this year. Bob Shonkwiler was crowned by homecoming queen Shelley Wiley at the dance sponsored by the Booster Club.

The theme of the dance was "King of Hearts," with music furnished by the Poor Yorik. The gym was decorated in red and white with large playing cards.

The queen was crowned during the half-time ceremonies at the homecoming game, which was played with Penn this year.

HEAD BASKETBALL COACH Bob Taylor gives instructions to a player on the floor. Beside him are assistant coaches Joe Kreitzman and Cuyler Miller.

THE 1970 BASKETBALL HOMECOMING COURT included Rick Shidaker and Mindy Meyers, Steve Slagle and Terri Trammell, Denny Bratcher and Debbie Pierce, Howie Bucher and Shelley Wiley, Jo Ann Scott and Pat Prister, (substituting for John Rosenbaum) Vicki Porman and Bob Shonkwiler, Vicki Freel and Chuck Poczik, and Debbie Lytle and Craig Moore.

PEP BAND regular Rob Colten supplies music during half-time ceremonies.

CAMPUS LIFE MEMBERS discover punishment for losing the "Time Bomb Game" is only a tick away. Craig Juday ruefully accepts his "fate."

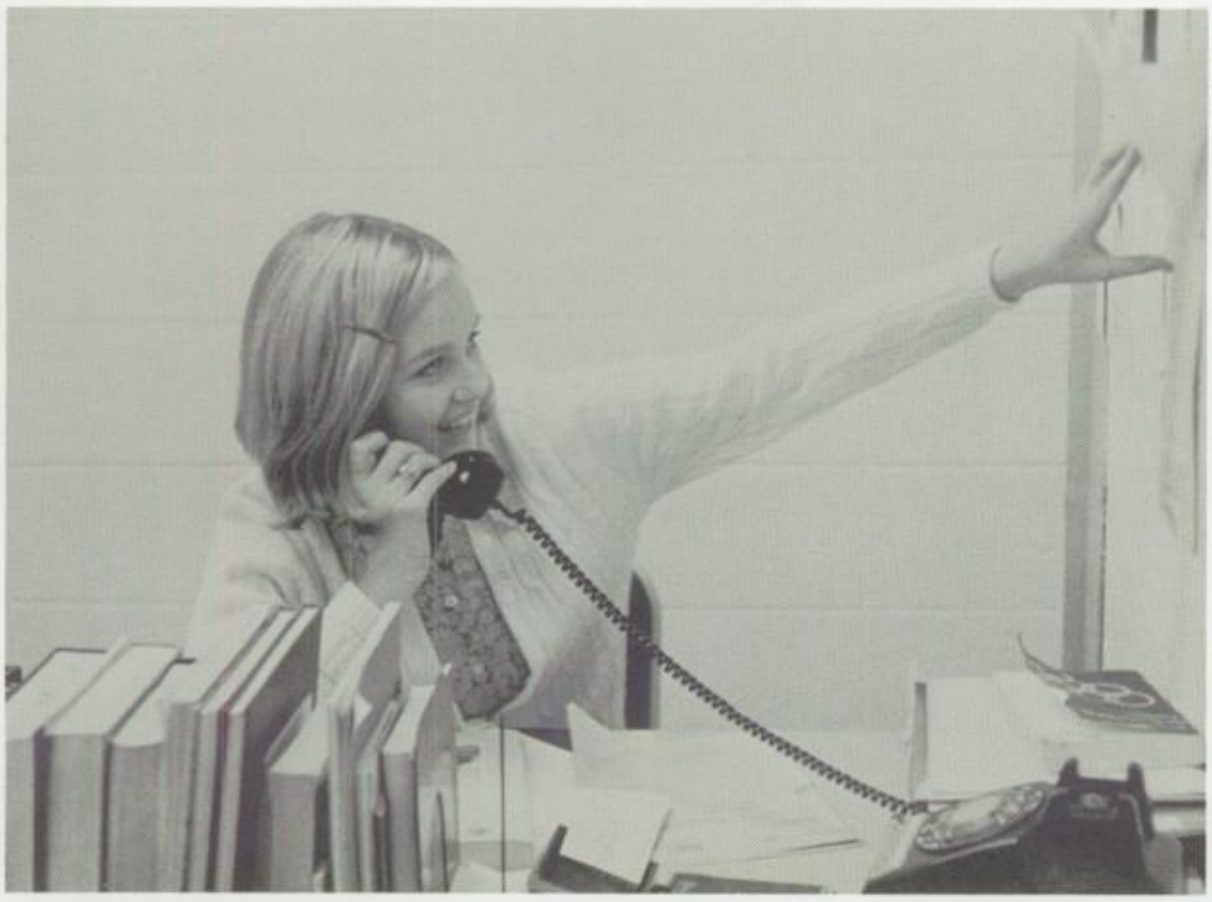
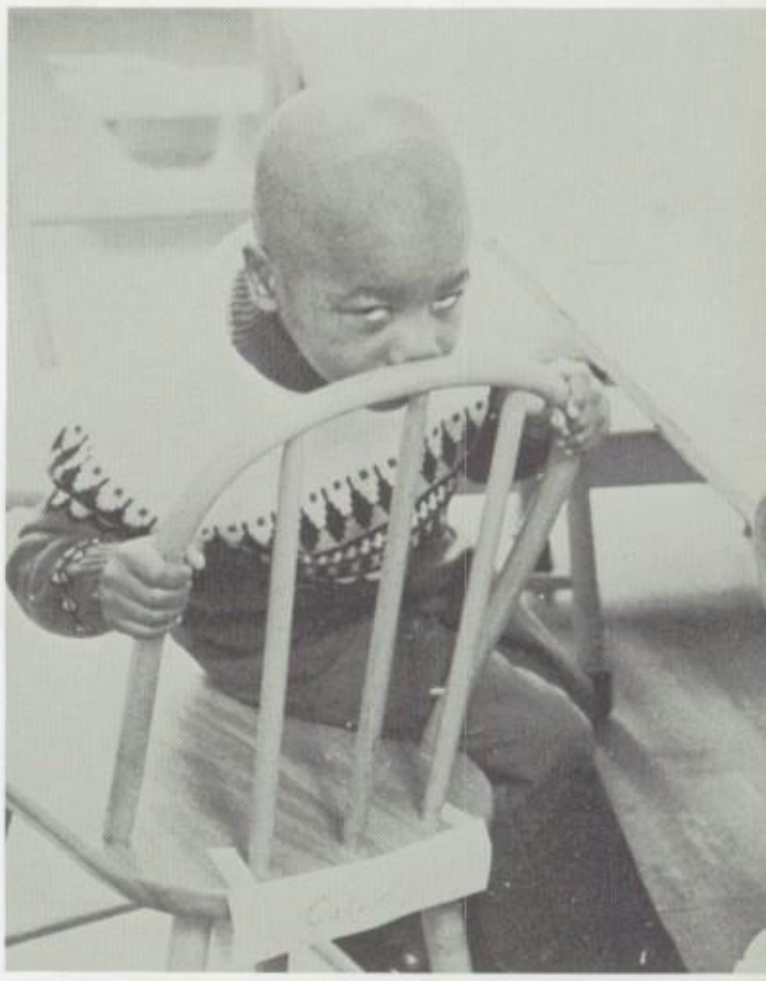
EXPERIMENTING IN BROADCASTING on WSBT brings new interests to Jackson High students; junior Ron Shaw signals the go-ahead for senior Jim Burton to start the turntables.

Varied Activities Occupy JHSers' Time



LINDA SPALDING, helping athletic director Mr. Sam Wegner, checks the football schedule for the date and time of the next game.

Jackson students' lives are enriched as they share in community services. Learning while working, Jacksonites prepare for future jobs while helping in the office and library during their free periods. After school hours, those interested in broadcasting gain experience in television at WSBT. Many find fulfillment in tutoring. Some church-sponsored groups help elementary school students once a week in various fields of study. One JHSer volunteers as a Head Start aide on Saturdays.



LITTLE BOYS like Calvin (above) may find school a lonely, forbidding experience without a "head start" on classroom activities. Head Start tutor Belinda Leonard (left) introduces Calvin and a friend to the arts of crayon design and working together.

TWIRLER Jeff Spear leads the marching band in the Thanksgiving parade.

HOURS of practice result in perfection as Laura Pankow enchants the crowd.

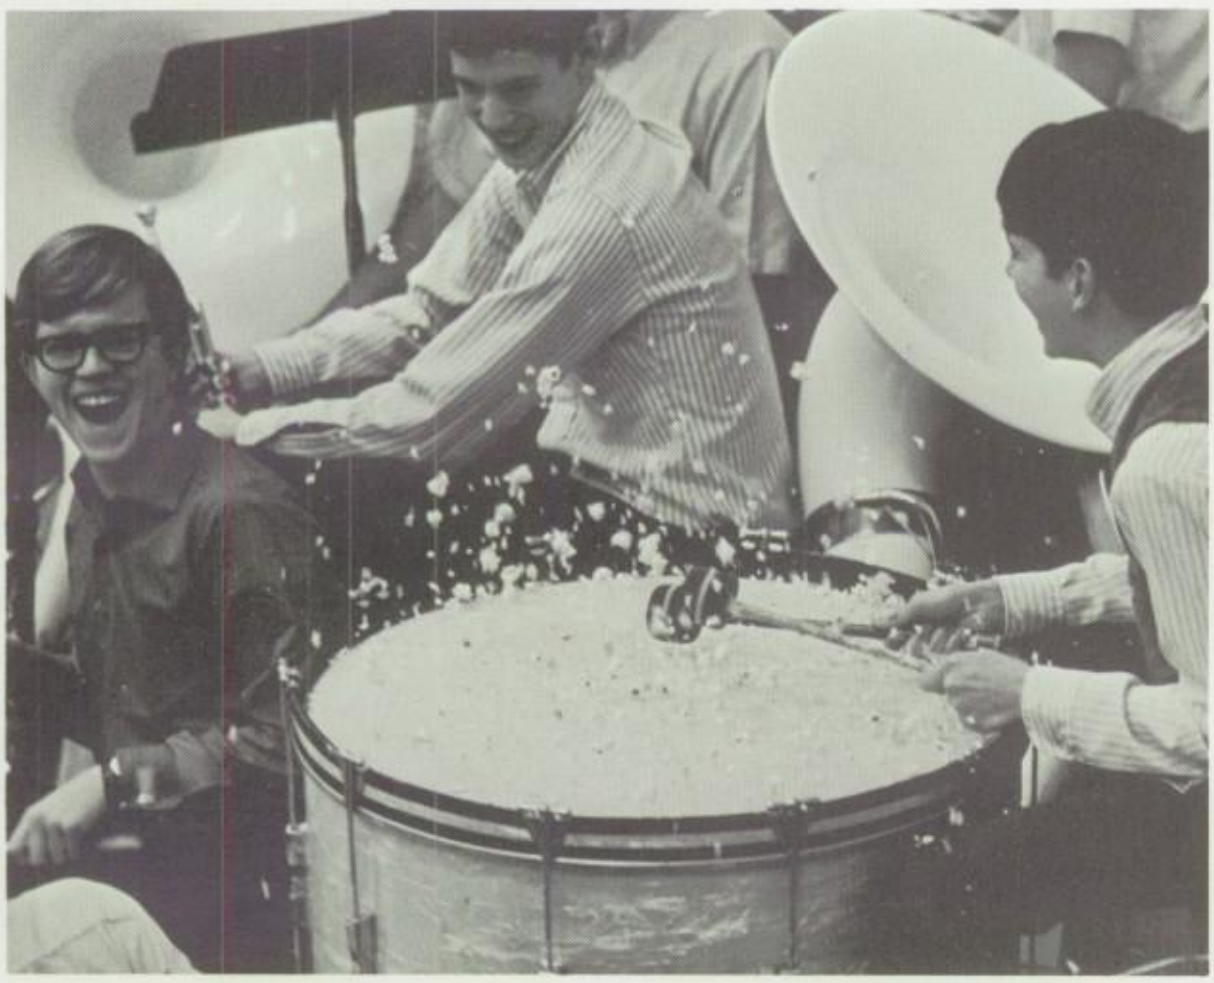
Solos, Concerts, Contests Part of Musicians' Lives

Led by Mr. Tom DeShone and Mr. Harold Kottlowski, the Jackson bands and orchestra added a fall concert to their yearly activities.

Jeff Bayman and Dave Stroop again led the marching band, while Mary (Jeff) Spear joined Kathy Overmyer as a twirler.

Members of the Jackson orchestra joined the dance band to play the score for "Babes in Arms."

KENT MARBURGER and Bob Overgaard prepare for upcoming dance band contest.



DRUMMING UP SPIRIT, Gary Crowel invents a new purpose for popcorn.

ARRIVING at school in August, band members await position assignments.

Junior Achievers Get 'Beyond Our Control'

Our world of JHS prepares us for the big world outside. Groups like Junior Achievement teach us skills to be used later. Those of us that show exceptional talent are rewarded in various ways, such as National Honor Society. Organizations teach us to handle responsibilities and duties. Hobbies such as scuba diving improve our insight into our world.

IN TELEVISION (right), the tables are often turned. A "Boy Scout" is aided across the street by Dave Beveridge, Betti Reece, and Bob Soos.

AN UNCLEAN FACE MASK (left) can be hazardous to a scuba diver. Leonard Copeland takes precautions before his descent into the underwater world.

MEMBERS OF THE BOOSTER CLUB gave much time to make signs which help boost school spirit. Karen Groves adds the finishing touches to a poster.

"NICE GUY, but oh, that dandruff!" thinks Marcia Blodgett as she gazes at husband-to-be Tom Hojnacki during a parody on Head & Shoulders commercials.

INJUN TOM HOJNACKI and Rex Noble (George Papp) rely on Sue Denning to prompt them during the actual filming of "Beyond Our Control."

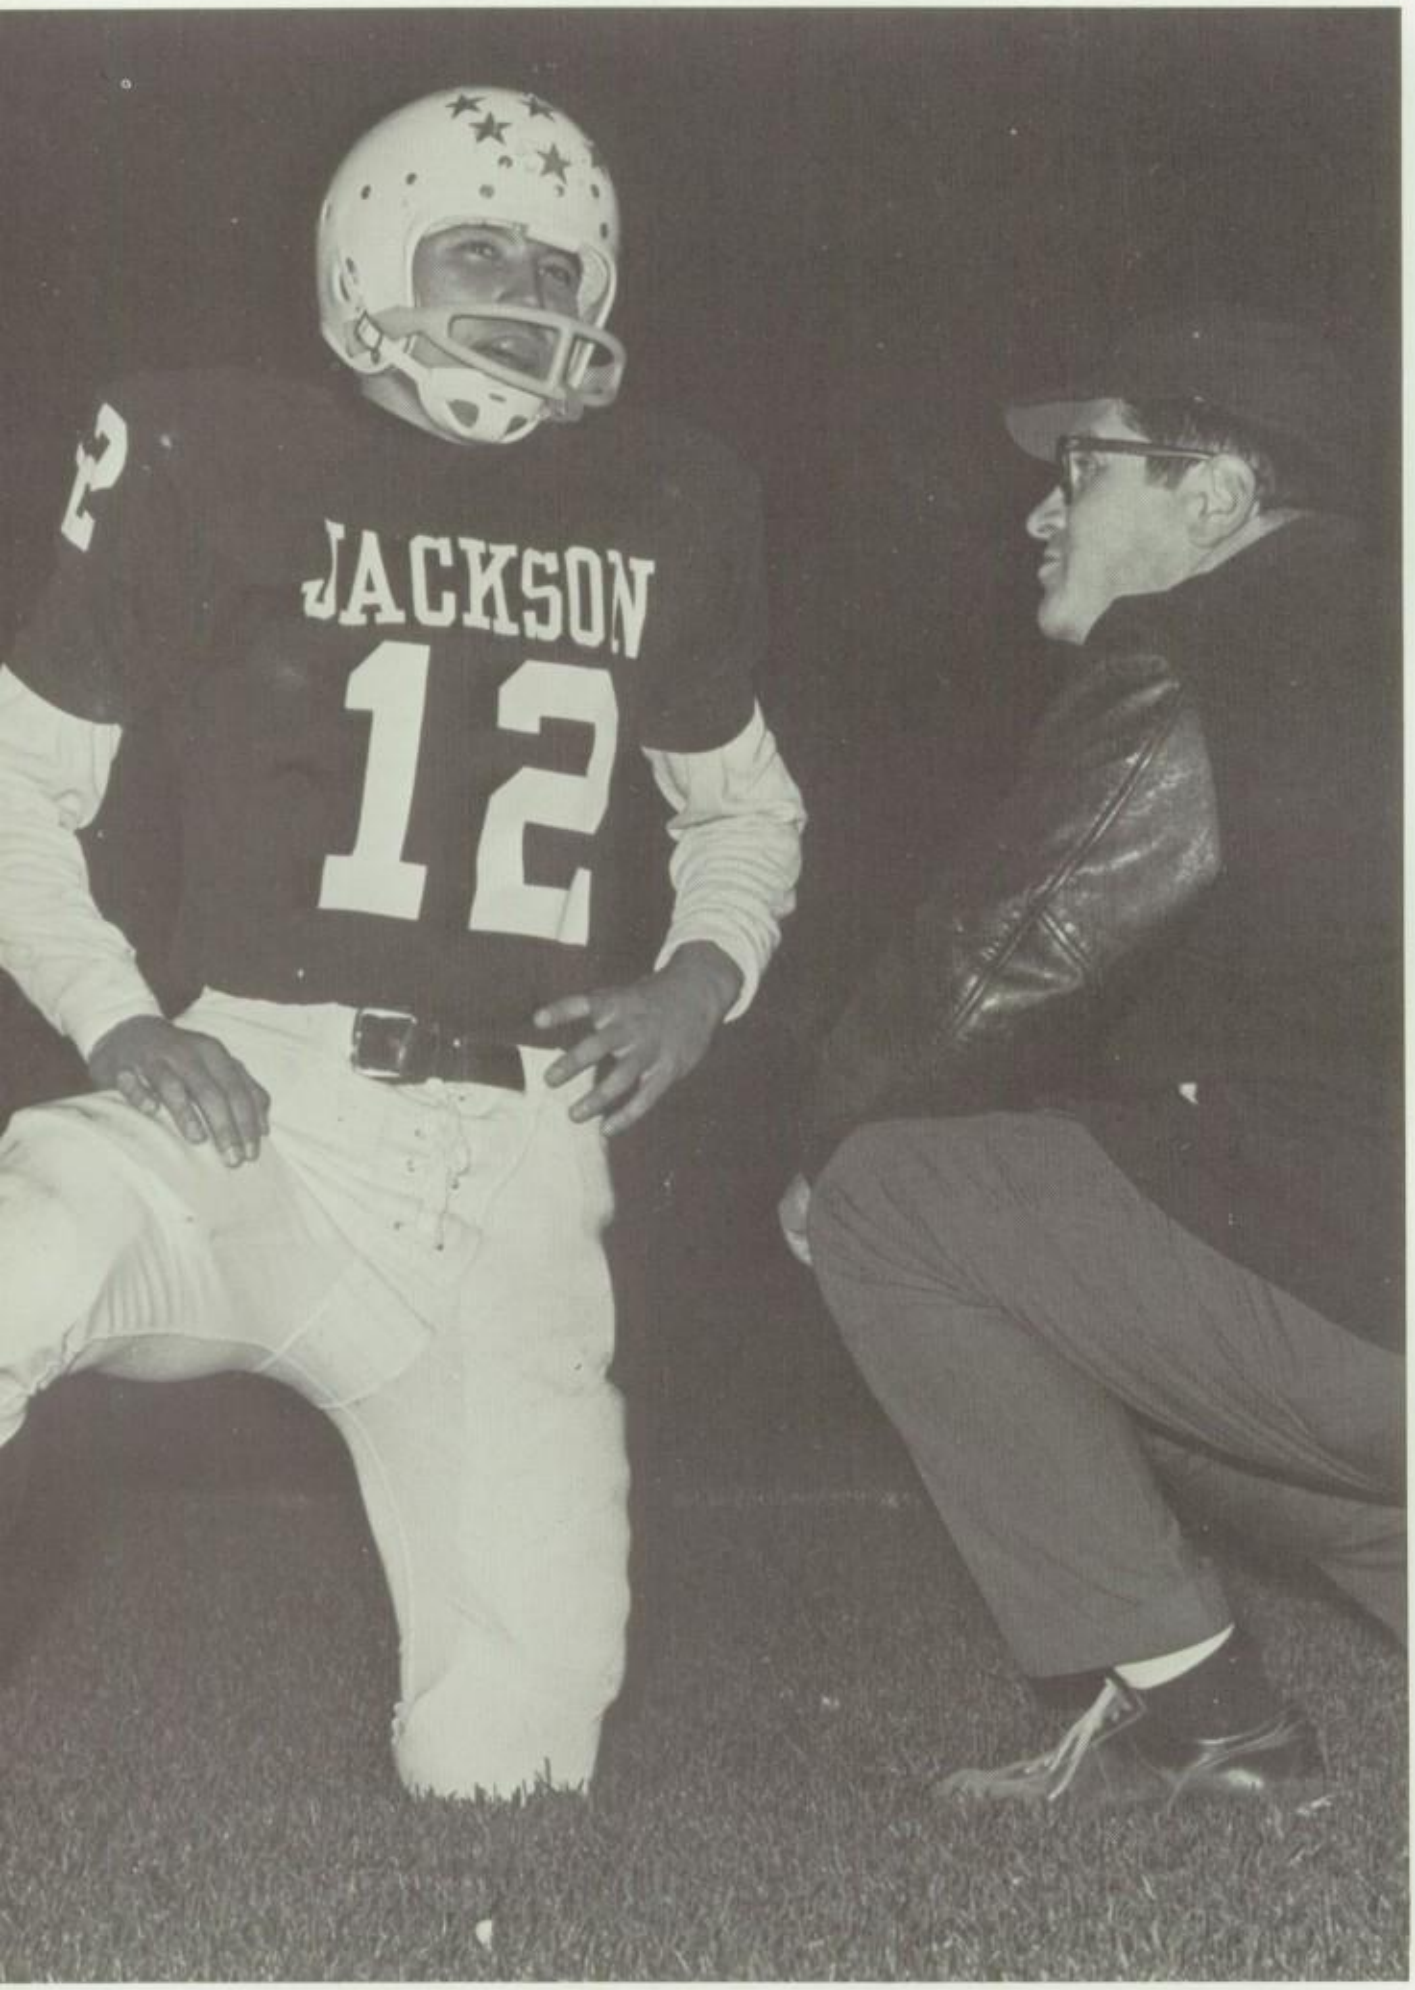
MECCI WENK listens intently as she receives advice from the director.

School Atmosphere Is Thrilling, Tedious,



EVEN WHEN you are ahead, a quarterback-coach conference is essential. Rick Shidaker and Coach Gartee discuss ways of keeping our lead.

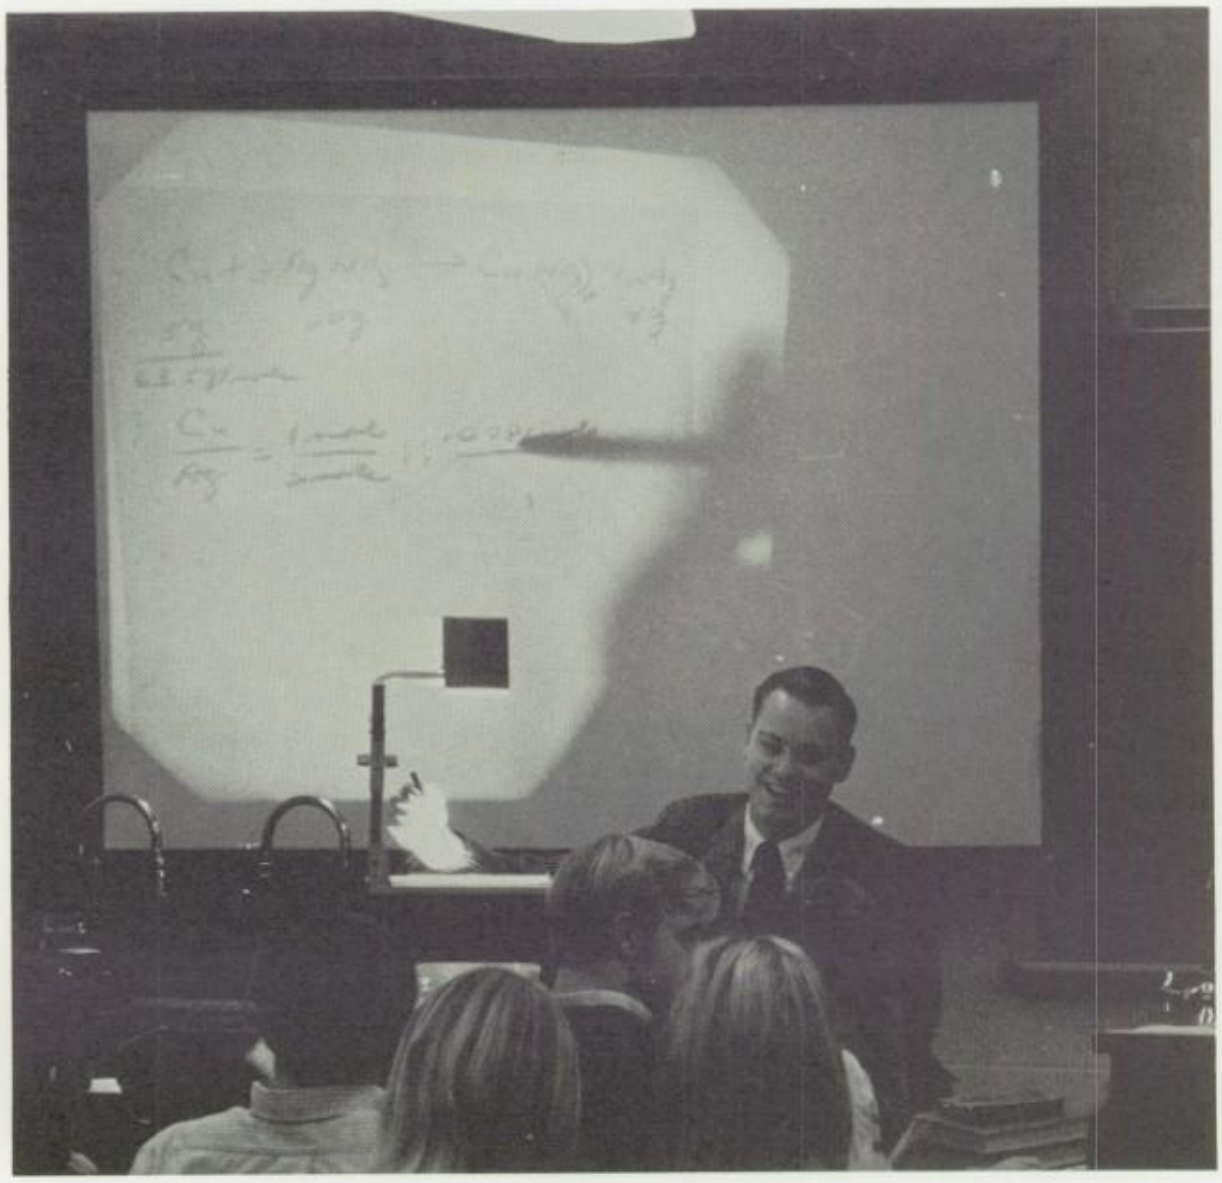
JACKSON TRADITION; a gift to the school from the class of 1969.

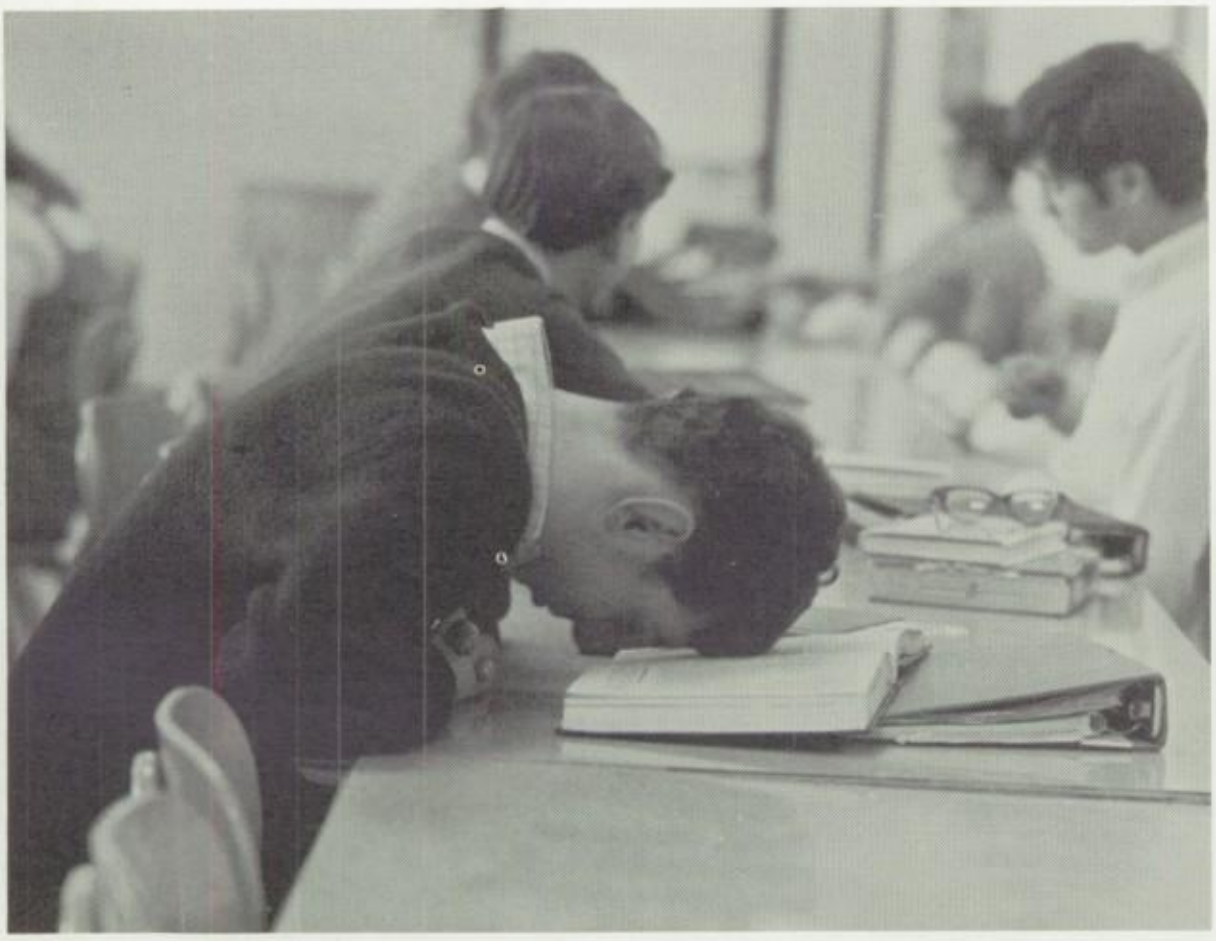
and Tranquil

Nervousness over tonight's game, bus rides, sleeping while waiting for the light to change, teachers and classrooms are all a part of our everyday existence as students of Jackson High School.

School is more than going to classes, studying and learning particular subjects. There are study halls; where we study if we have strong powers of concentration, but probably read a magazine or sleep if we can get away with it. After school there is a game, play practice, or a club meeting.



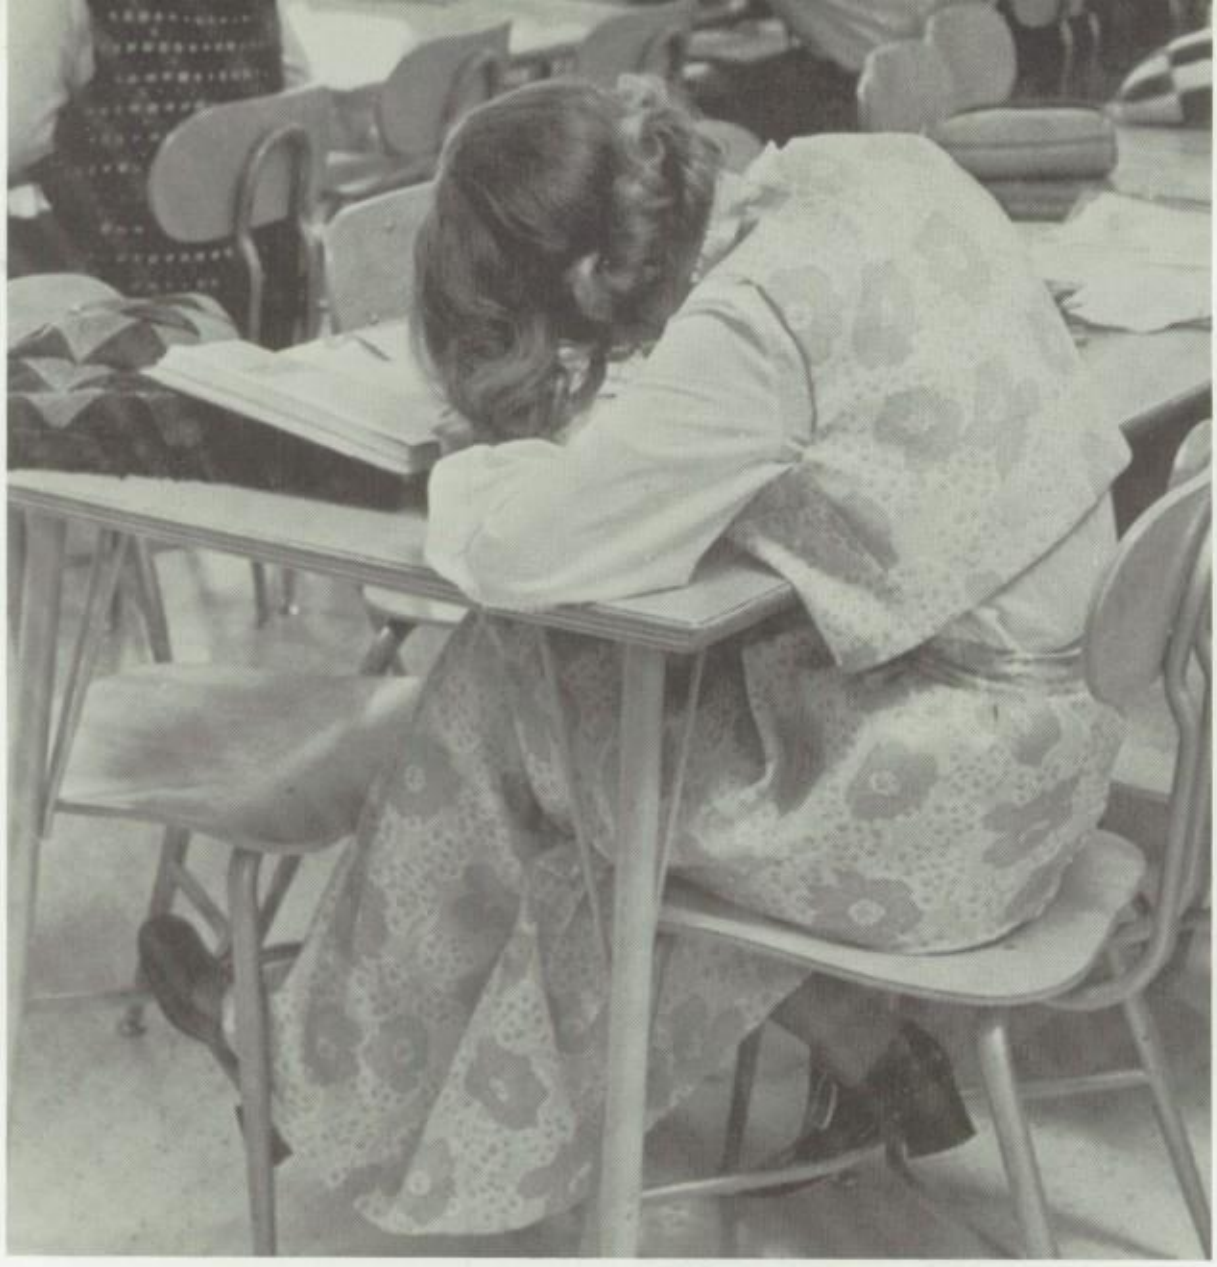
MR. KOELLNER uses the overhead projector with hopes of enlightening students in the concepts of chemical formulas.



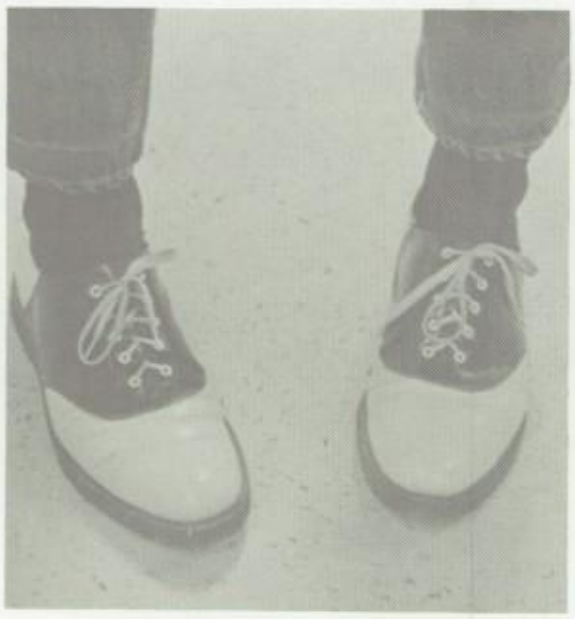
A DAY AT SCHOOL may mean a bus ride, cafeteria lunch, and a rest in study hall while thinking about tonight's game.

SCHOOL BUSES are not comfortable, but this is a small price to pay for being able to get away from school.

New Styles

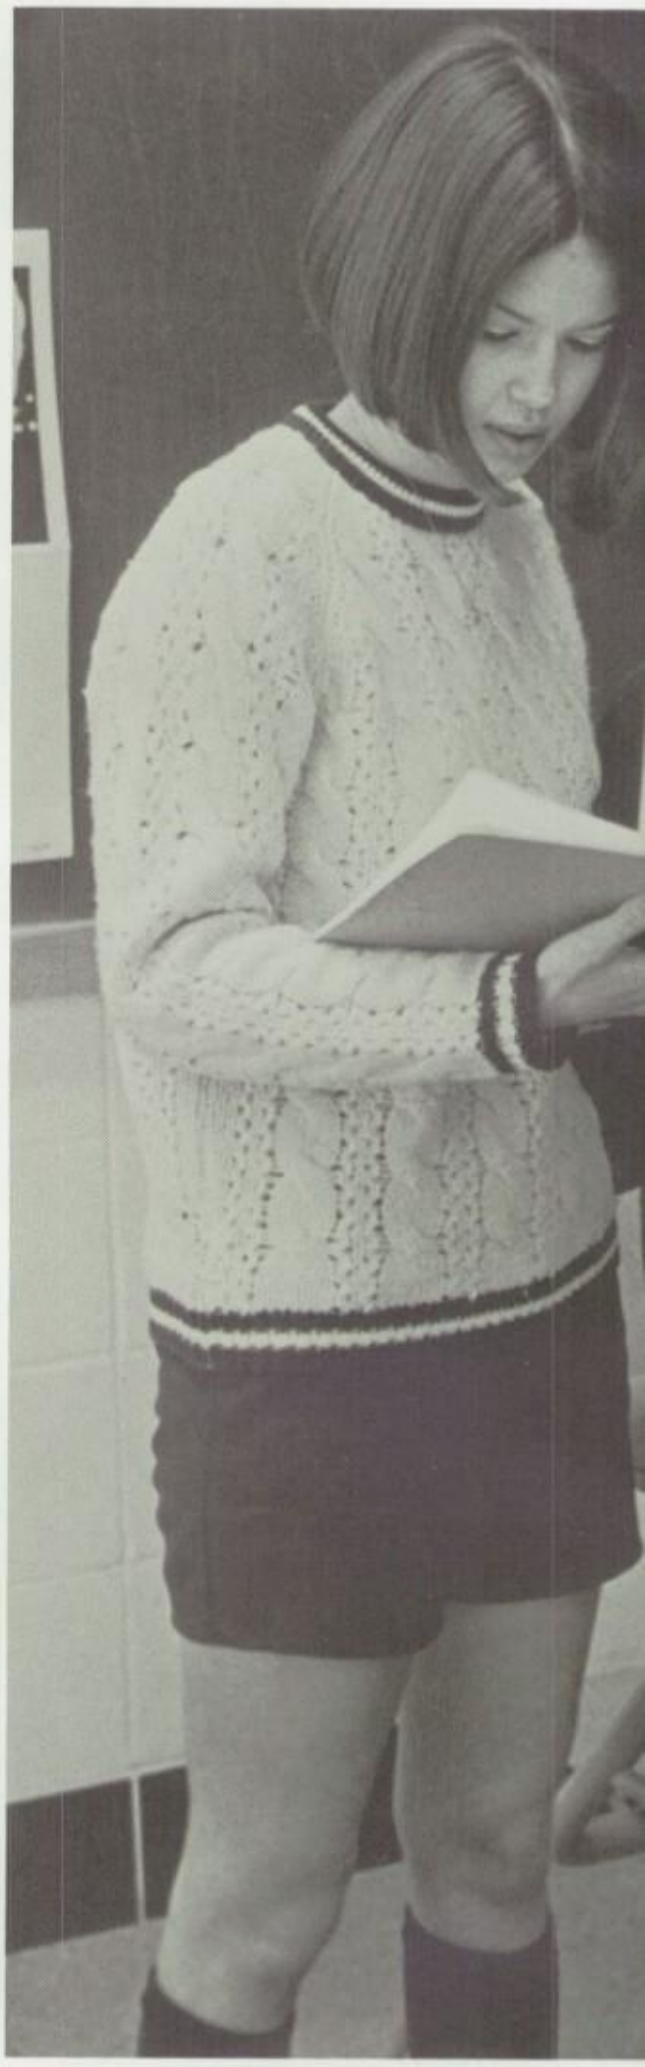


MAXI OUTFITS can be seen anywhere throughout the school. They provide a means by which a girl may exhibit her sewing talent and fashion know-how.



ALONG WITH NEW STYLES there are also the traditional saddle shoes.

INTEREST IN SECULAR DRAMA extends beyond the classroom of Mr. Kauss.



Follow Dress Code Revision

The Student Council revision of the dress code caused an elaborate change in fashions this year. The change in girls' styles was most noticeable as standard skirts and blouses were traded in for slacks and maxis. Boys changed to saddle shoes and blue jeans. Tennis shoes were also popular.

Facial "plumage" came into full bloom this year as restrictions on beards and mustaches were lifted. Muttonchop sideburns were also popular.

Our new dress code showed the increased freedom for which both of our worlds are striving.

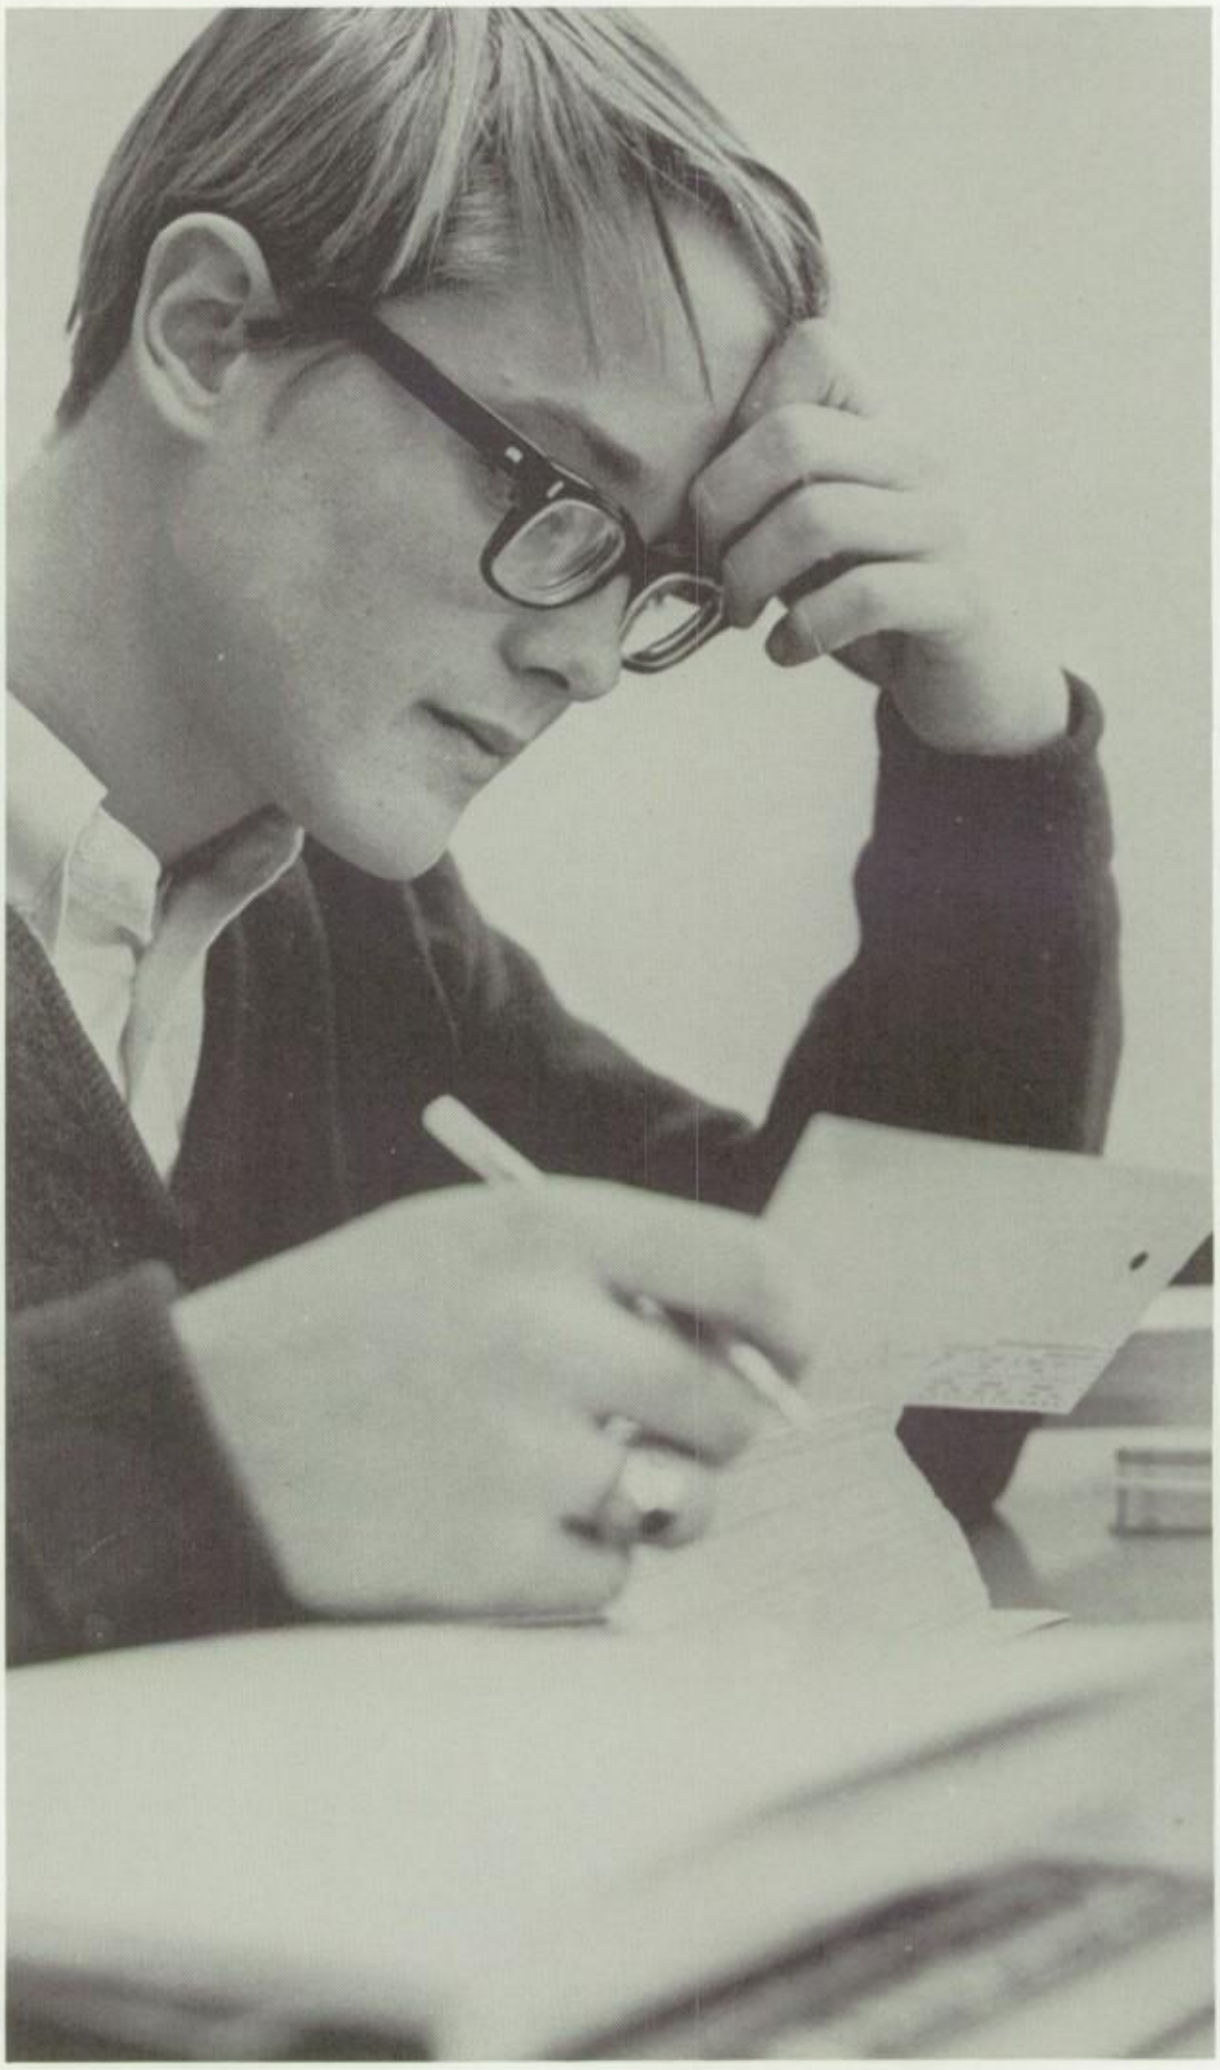
LINDA AND NANETTE Lutes take advantage of the comforts of shorts and slacks, acceptable under the new dress code.

PRACTICALITY AND STYLE combine to keep Peggy Kase warm.

CATHY JOHNSON AND JULIE HEIN model the long and short of the skirt issue.

Data Processing Course Added to

The knowledge absorbed today will be the building blocks of the future. For each of us must leave our world of Academics to face the responsibilities and the problems of the world of business, service and adult life in general.



SENIOR JOHN DOBBS (right) studies to obtain computer knowledge that will be useful to him in the future, while Dennis Darrow and Jan Stoeckinger of Wheelhorse Products Inc. (above) utilize Electronic Data Processing in their everyday business world.

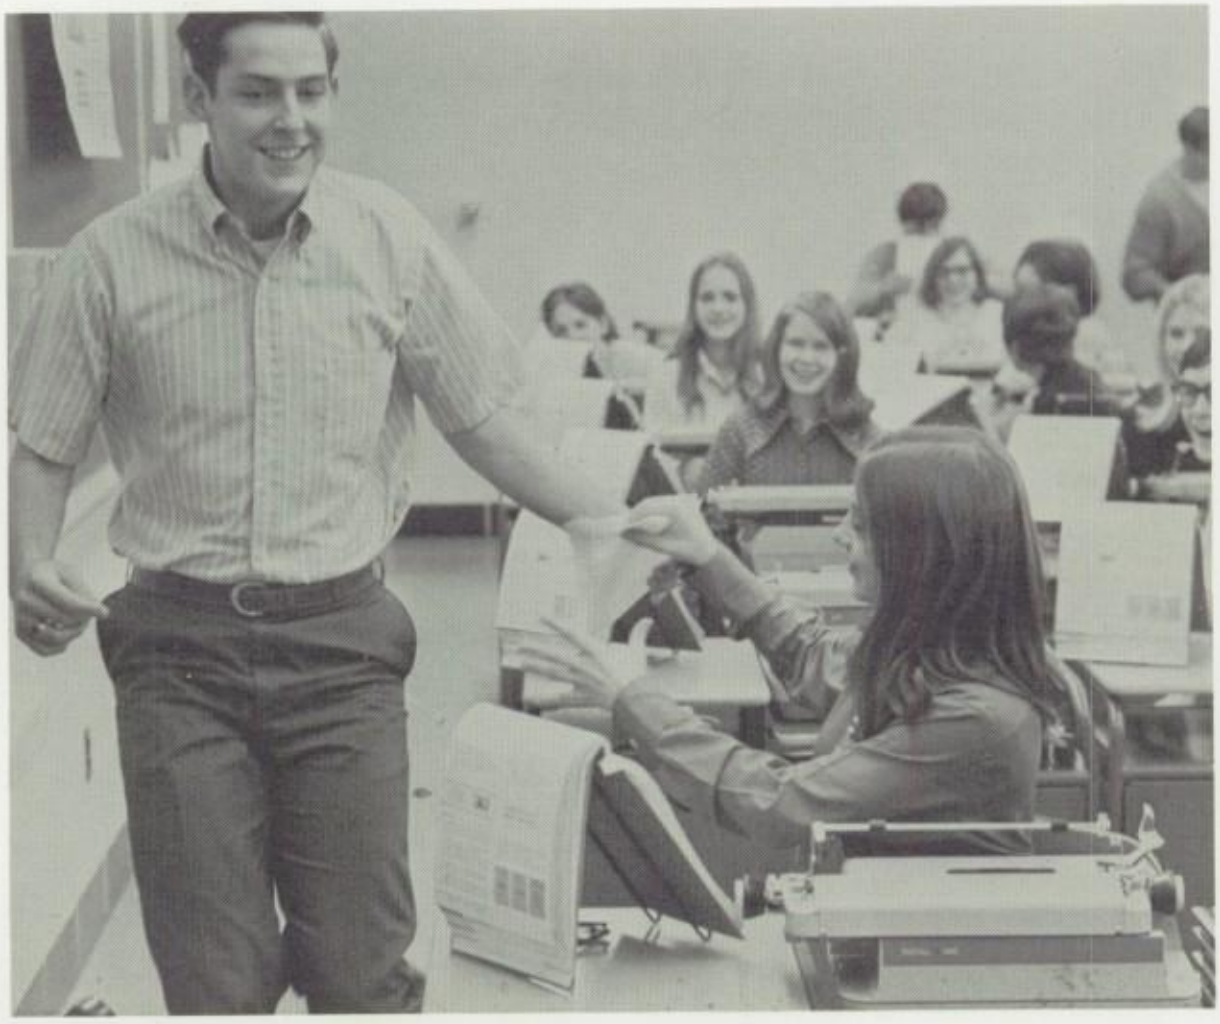
Curriculum

A data processing course was added to Jackson's business curriculum this year. Students learned about computers and how to read punch cards, and they took field trips to places like Associates and IBM.

Boys invaded office training. Dann Schultz and Floyd Husvar learned along with the girls how to file, answer the phone and run an adding machine.

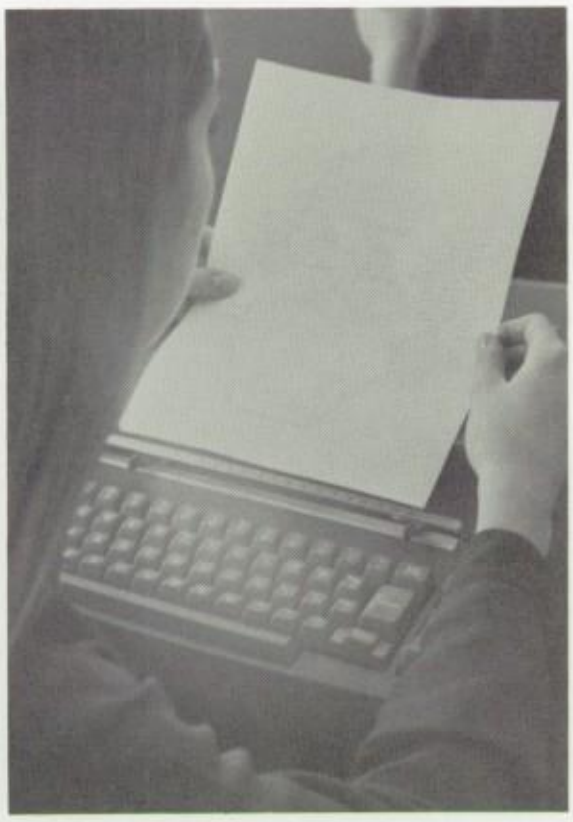
Typing relays spurred speed and sparked enthusiasm for Typing I students. Each row worked together to complete a copy block first.

Mrs. Brewer's Typing-Notehand classes typed Santa Claus pictures around Christmas time.



COMPETING AGAINST both the clock and his classmates in a typing relay, Mike Rader passes Suzy Wright a copy block to finish typing.

SENIOR MARY GEYER concentrates on reading her assignment in shorthand.



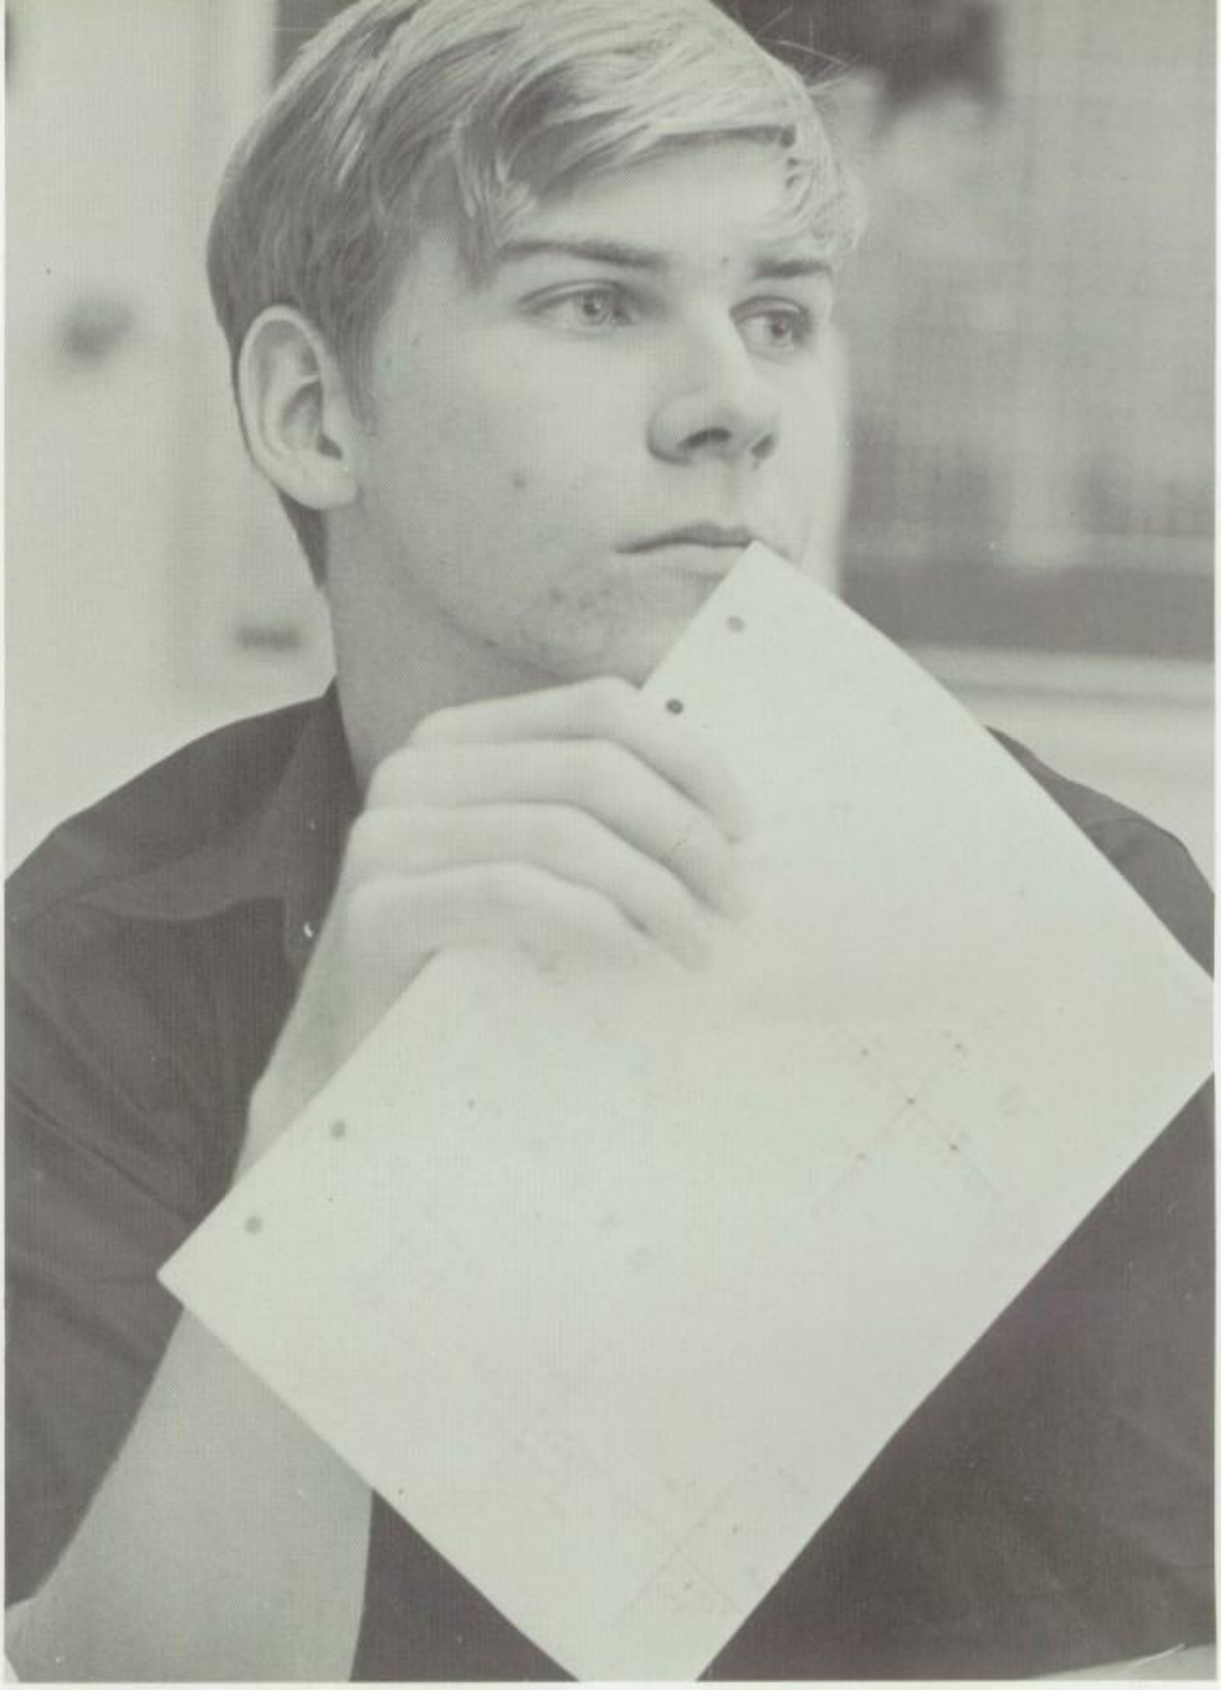
OBSERVING THE EFFECTS of a unique typing project, students discover they can draw Santa Claus on the typewriter.

Optical Aids Illustrate Math Laws

Geometry students again this year observed Mr. Conrad's optical illusion exhibition. This display demonstrated that you can't always believe your eyes.

The students enrolled in Calculus studied the computations of areas as limits, and the definite integral and functional theorems, while Algebra II students learned cosines, tangents, and logarithms.

The high school math classes covered adding, subtraction, and story problems.



PONDERING one of the examples written on the board, senior Tom Beck compares it mentally to the solution he obtained on his assignment in College Algebra.

A STUDENT grips her pencil like a dagger as Mr. Rems tries helping her with a pressing problem.

DE, ICT, COE Give Job-Experience

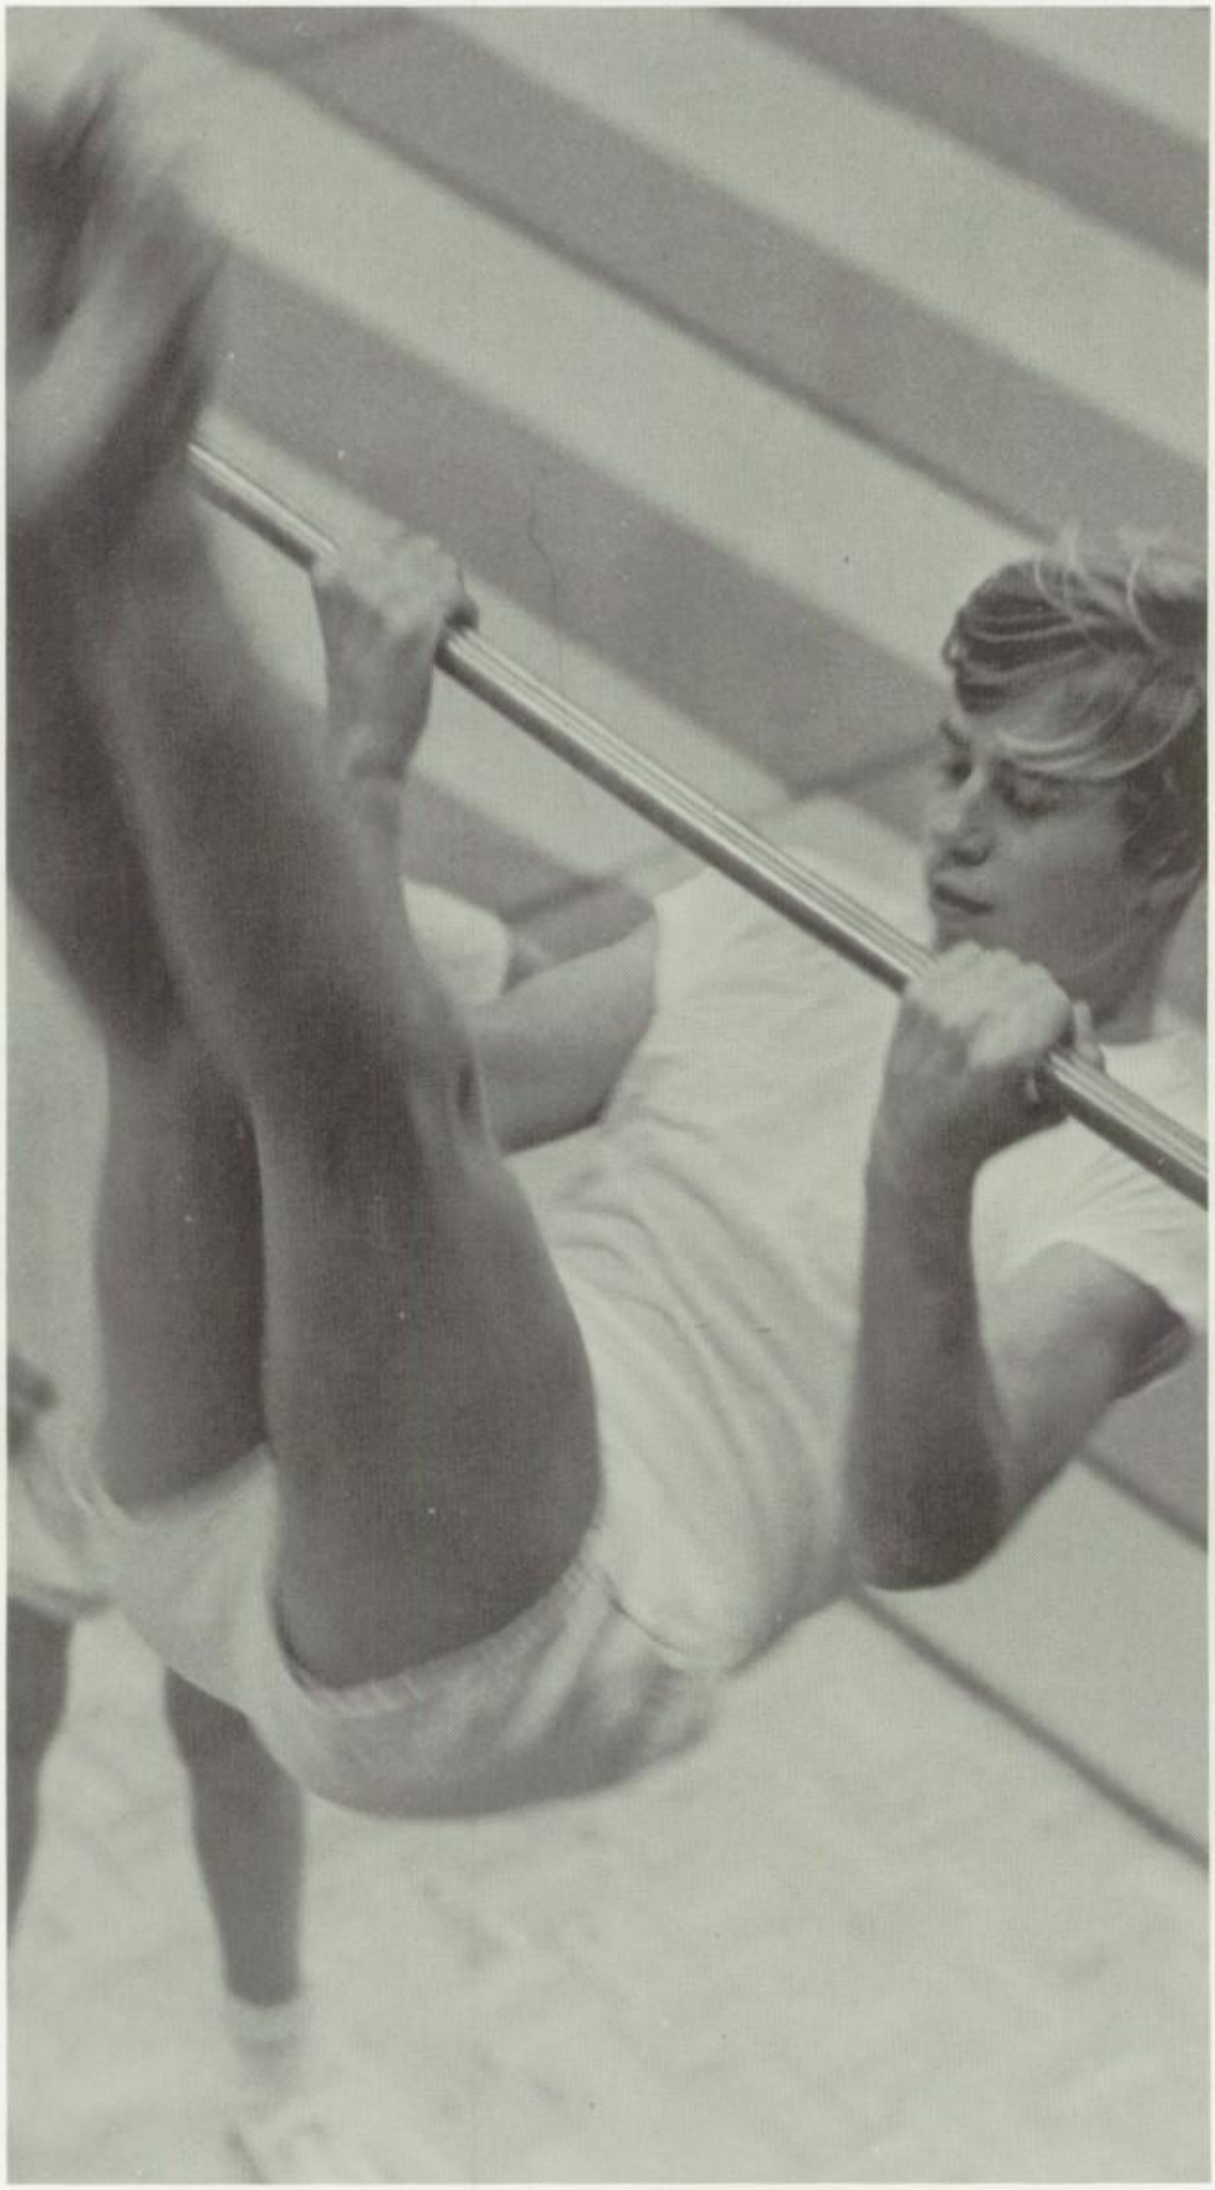
A class in Distributive Education was offered for those considering sales-connected careers, and a class in Industrial Cooperative Training was given for others oriented toward industry. A third course, Cooperative Office Practice, attracted aspirants for secretarial positions. Students enrolled in these classes left school at noon to work in jobs arranged by the school's vocational coordinators.

PRACTICING WHAT he has learned about cutting meat, Bob Garrett slices some beef for a customer.

HELPING at Chippewa Animal Clinic, Dotty Sharp soothes a frightened dog before she cuts the tape off his ears.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION participant Joyce Potts serves customers as an employee of Meyer's Hardware.

Health, Phys. Ed. Supplement Academics



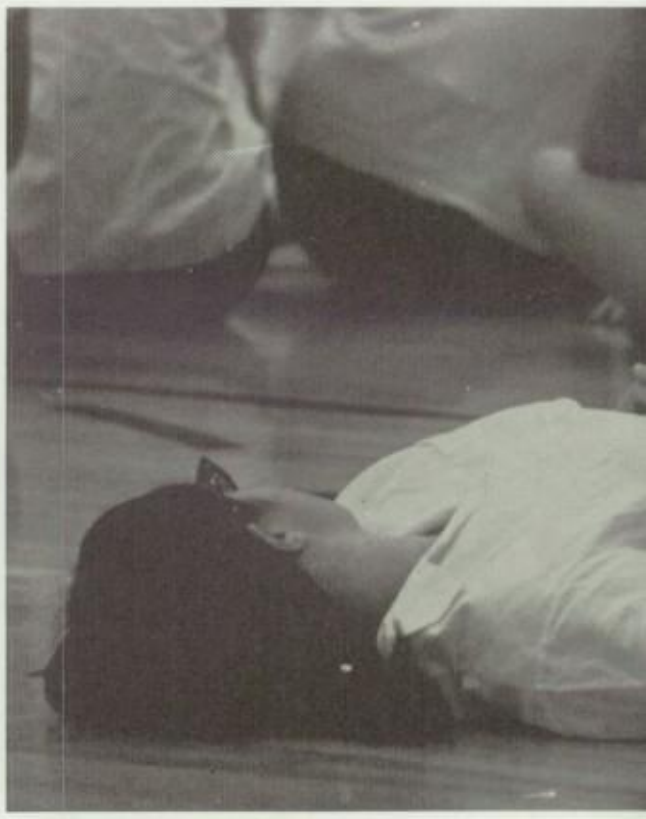
JERRY GAPINSKI discovers both that mental and physical strength are needed to perform a forward flip in boys' physical education.

Along with the more academic courses, classes in physical, health and Drivers Education were offered to JHS students.

Health classes taught them how to take care of themselves as well as to help others. Through practice on a plastic dummy, the art of artificial respiration was learned. Films and lectures gave students an insight to the drug and alcohol problem in the U.S.

Volleying mammoth balls over nets and attempting grace on the balance beam and t r a m p o l i n e plagued the ninth and tenth grade girls who primarily make up the phys. ed. classes. Boys participated in such activities as prison ball, swimming and gymnastic stunts.

A summer offering, Drivers Ed., was open to 15 and 16-year olds. The course involved class work and practical driving experience.



WHILE LISTENING to instructions on how to play basketball, Debbie Sennett assumes a comfortable position.

ENCOURAGED by the rest of the boys' physical education class, Mike Tetzlaff executes a spread eagle on the vaulting horse.

MAKING A MAP of the city for Drivers Education requires Patty Young to count the lanes on downtown Michigan Street.

SHARON VOYLES enlarges a diagram of skin tissue so that her health class can see it better.

THE EYE of a needle can be elusive as Shelly Wittner tries to thread it.

Home Ec, Industrial Arts Provide Practical Skills

Foods classes kept white mice to observe the effects of diet on appearance and behavior. One of the mice ate foods from the basic four food groups while the other mouse ate foods found in the "average" teenage diet.

Besides sewing the required suits, dresses and culottes, and presenting the traditional style show with its 107 entries, clothing students made Christmas presents.

Family Living classes discussed problems ranging from dating to home decorating.

Machine and Vocational Processes classes trained students for such careers as tool and die and heat treating.

Working with small engines and low-powered machines was undertaken by Power Mechanics classes.

Vocational Electronics class did repair work and special projects such as speaker cabinets and acoustics design.

Students proficient in Drafting I and II took Vocational Drafting in which they designed and constructed model homes.

FEEDING WHITE MICE Mortimer and Oglethorpe, Sue Kramer and Cindy Streich observe the effects of different diets on their behavior.

FUTURE COUTURIER? Clothing III student Sandy Koch designs and produces a paper dress for Sue Sigrist.

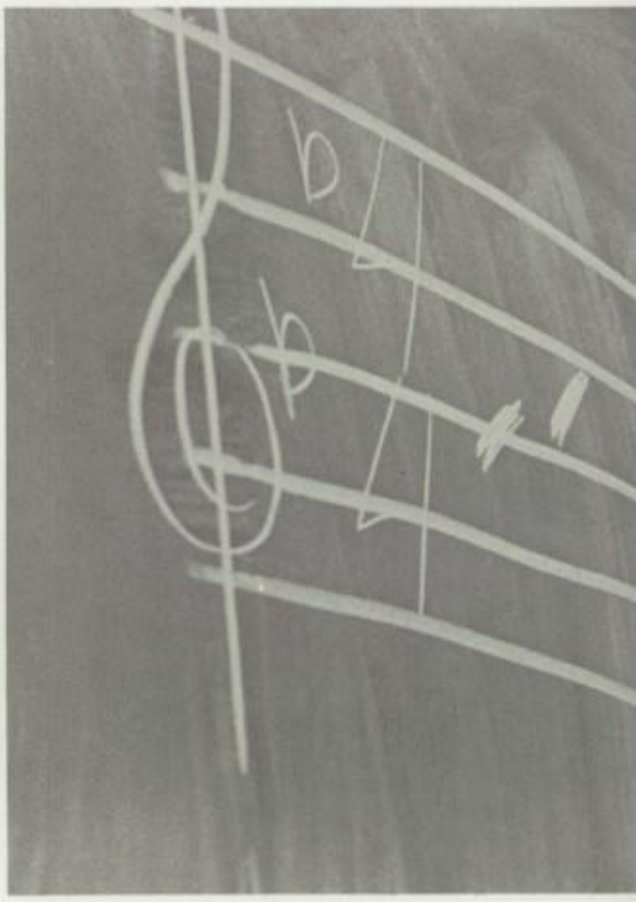
ACCOMPLISHED in the art of welding, Tom Kurzhal secures and strengthens one side of a trailer he made in Vocational Machine Shop II.

IN AUTO MECHANICS Terry Workman carefully chisels off a stubborn bolt on the bottom of an air filter system.

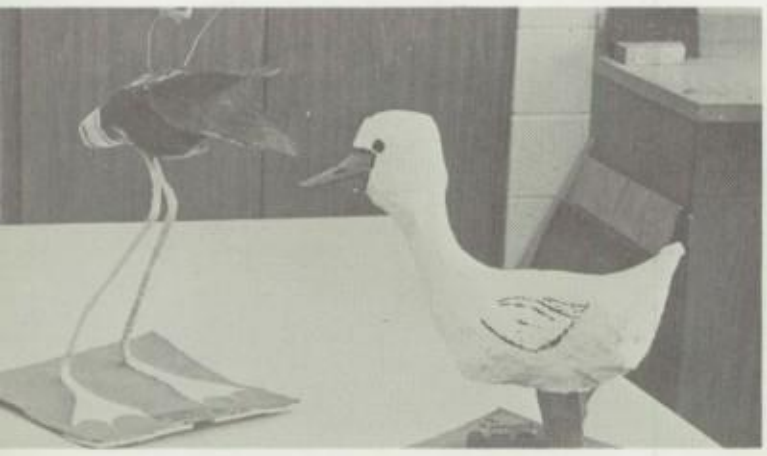
PERPENDICULARS, obtuse angles, and congruent triangles are common elements used in drafting. Rick Sprague works over a scale drawing.

Harmony Class Reinstated,

AFTER HOURS of wrapping, pasting and drying, a papier mache dog finally takes shape. Freshman Linda Hechliniski adds a coat of bright paint.



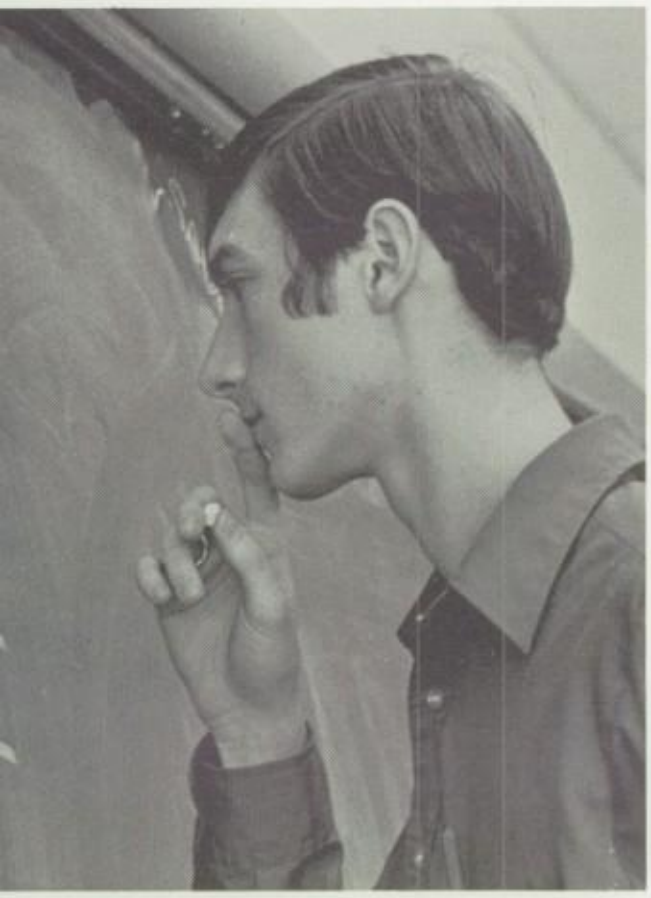
PONDERING what the next note will be, Senior Greg Whaley composes a stanza for second hour harmony class.



IMAGINATIVE CREATURES were designed and created by Basic Art students.

BEFORE THE REGULAR band class holds its daily warm-up, Jon Lewis gets in some extra practice on a particularly hard part.

Artists Exhibit Ingenuity



While the bands and orchestra were playing music, the harmony class was learning the theory behind it. This course was reinstated this year after a year's absence.

Basic Art students created toothpick structures and papier mache figures.

Designing packages, posters, and fashion illustrations were projects undertaken in Commercial Art. The course taught the basics in advertising layout and lettering.

Painting I classes practiced the techniques used by the Old Masters. Instead of brushing paint on canvas, they used other methods such as putting paint on with putty knives or sponges.

ANITA WALLEN and Polly Olden work together to stretch canvas in Painting I.

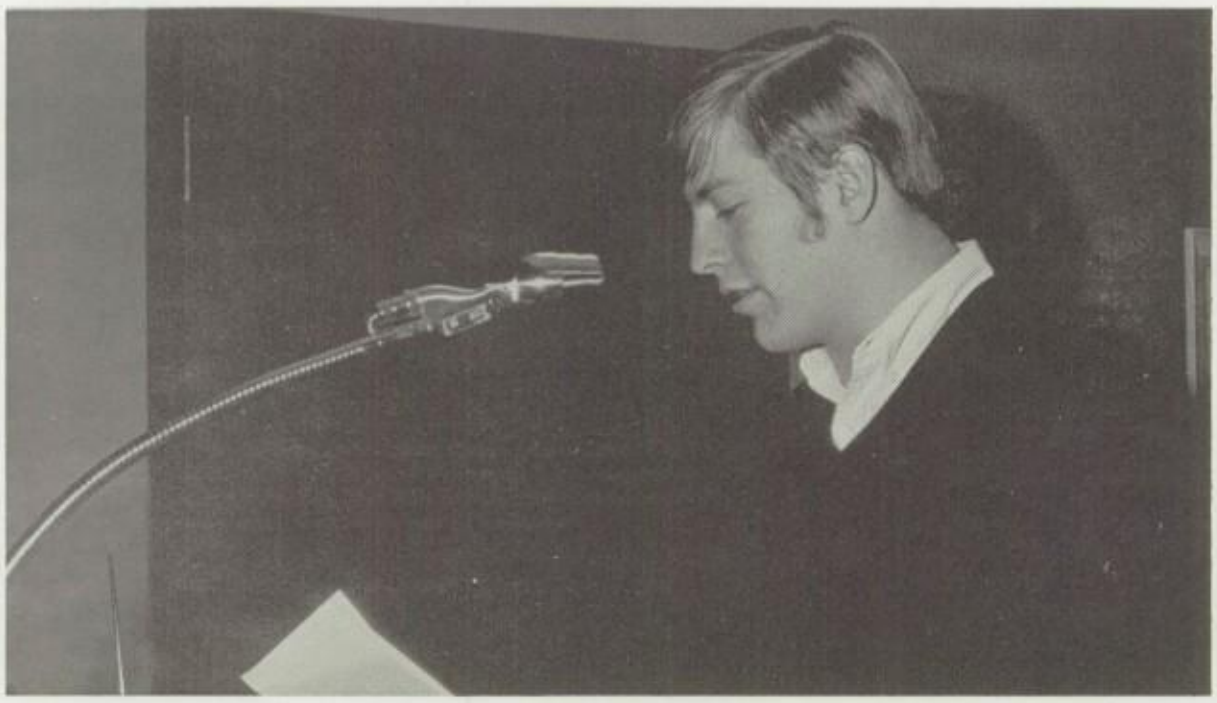
Students Produce Movies for English



SPEECH class skills aid Fred Mercer as he gives the morning announcements.

The English department, including many new teachers, added a creative writing course to the curriculum this year. The course, which held an enrollment of nine, showed students writing and film-making techniques.

Senior English classes worked on movies, sets, and cardboard mountains for presentations while studying Greek Literature. Speech class students got extra practice by delivering announcements over the PA system every morning. Journalism students learned the concepts of newspaper and yearbook writing and put them to use.

ORIGINALITY PLAYS an important part in Mrs. Thomas' senior English classes. Kim Hitchcock films Judy Medich and Teresa Kubley in their "Greek" movie.

WAITING FOR their skit to begin, Mike Griffey, Jeff Schoppe, and Sharon Huffaker get into position.

MARI COOK winces as Hope Heemstra pierces her ears in a demonstration speech for sophomore English.

THE QUIET ATMOSPHERE of the library proves relaxing as well as intellectually stimulating as Geoff Pangrac takes advantage of the facilities.

Social Studies Adds Course

A new course joined the ranks of government classes offered to seniors. Contemporary Society included a semester of U.S. government and a quarter each of economics and sociology.

Making movies, drawing charts, and doing reports were methods used in teaching Introduction to Social Studies. Students were made aware of different forms of government and our economic system.

HONORS ABROAD Latin student Jill Daniels helps Mr. James Stebbins look for essential information in the department file boxes.

Languages Bring Insight

Third year French students created a small boutique where they displayed objects that would normally be sold in a small French speciality shop.

Besides the regular trips to the language lab for oral practice drills and the routine classroom work of reciting, translating and writing, Spanish students put on colorful skits and an exhibition.

DAVE TEPE films an imaginary press conference in which Vicky Wolfe talks to "reporters" Chris Halter and Sue Horvath about the Gross National Product.

Science Students Learn From Nature,

The smell of formaldehyde, the observation of amoebas, and flying red rubber balls are all symbols of our world of science.

New physics books helped Jackson students understand principles of Pascal's and Newton's second law. Students studied centrifugal force by spinning around red rubber balls, and found the heat of fusion by melting ice cubes.

Chemistry courses were cut back to six chemistry I classes. Students learned about the periodic chart, the traditional mole concept, and the gas laws.

Biology II students kept polluted aquariums in class to observe the effects of chemical and thermo-pollution on the metabolism of fish.

CAREFULLY dissecting a cat in Biology II, Bonnie Bastock examines one of the leg muscles of her specimen.

NANCY Kennedy stretches to capture one more precious specimen for her butterfly collection in Biology I.

IN EARTH science Bob Overgaard and Bill Montgomery duplicate Eratosthenes' experiment to find the earth's circumference using shadow angles.

Our World of Sports

Baseballers Hustle to 10-13-1

This was the year the amazing Mets won the World Series, and New Yorkers made heroes of them and their coach, Gil Hodges.

Baseball fans in South Bend, however, had their excitement in mid-summer as veteran Leo Durocher and his Chicago Cubs led the National League for six months before fading in the final stretch.

Such frustration is part of our world of sports, along the way from practice, to prowess, to pride.

Season Under New Head Coach Miller

CATCHER Tom Vogel waits for the ball, knowing that with this pitch another victory in a long season will be under the belt of the Tiger squad.

Led by senior co-captains John Hummer and Dave Petty, the 1969 baseball team scored a 10-13-1 season record.

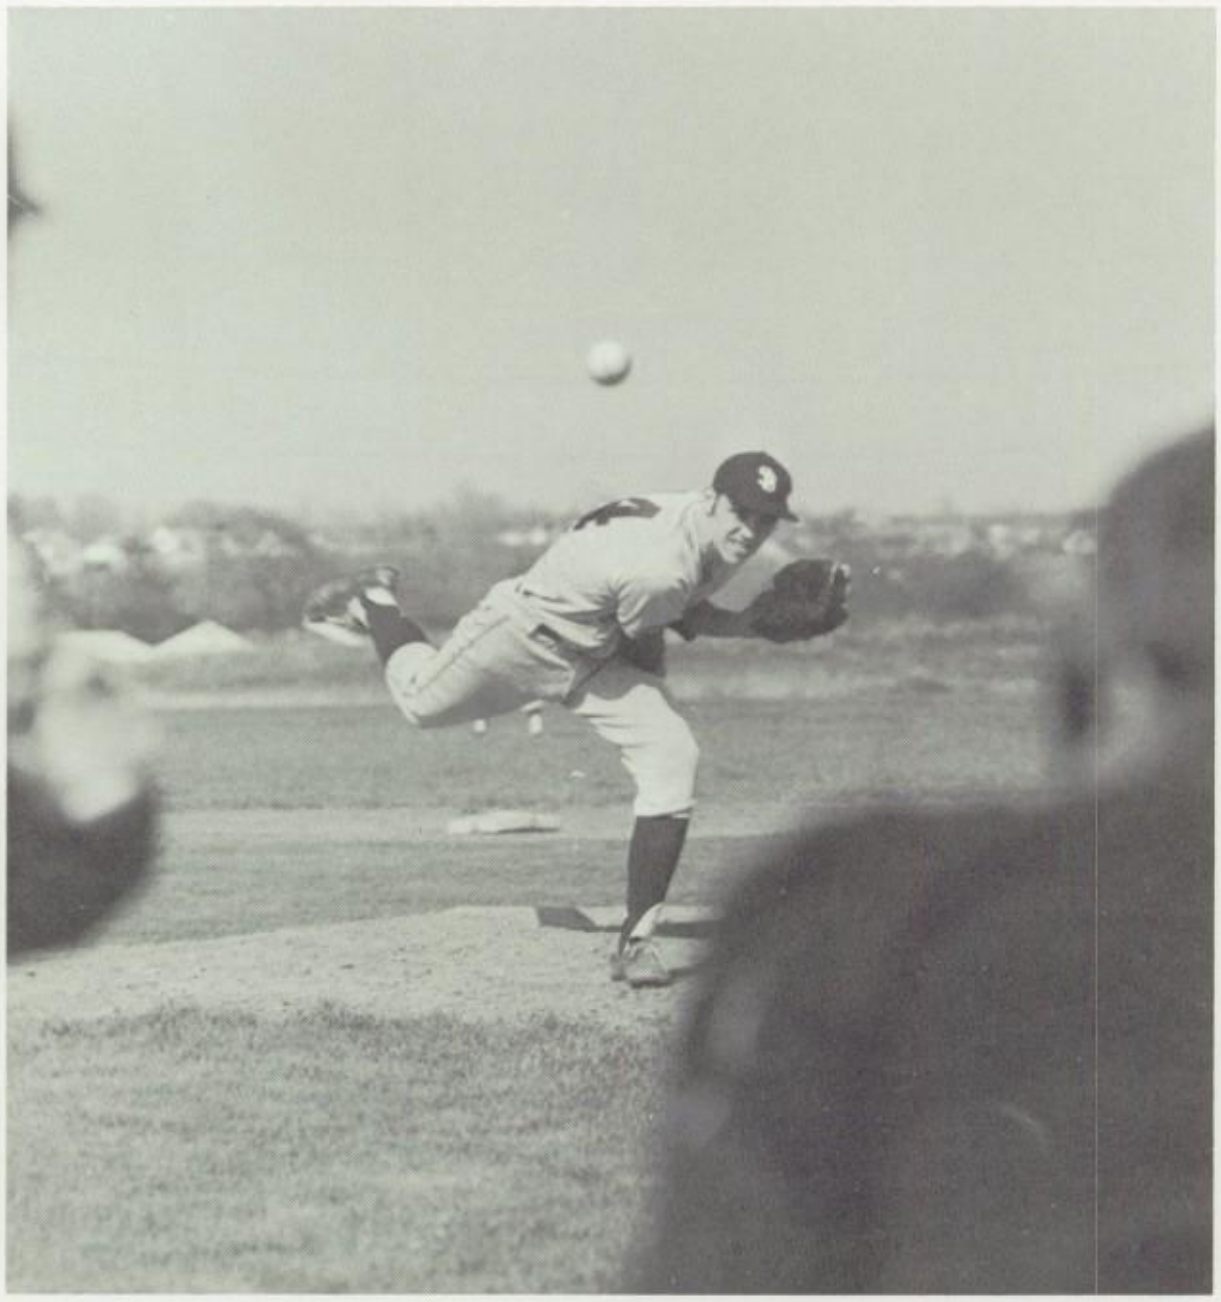
During sectional play the team defeated a tough Washington club 7-6 but bowed to NIVC conference foe St. Joe 10-0.

Merle Carmichael, star pitcher, pitched 43 strikeouts for the season high while junior George Miller led the homerun department with two.

The team returned this season after losing five seniors. New coach Cuyler Miller believes the upcoming season promises to be a good one. For statistics and team picture, see page 151.

FIRST BASEMAN Dave Brooks watches for the throw to first and an out.

HURLING THE BALL home, Merle Carmichael hopes for a no-hit game.



Track Men Place Fourth in City Meet

The Jackson trackmen came out with a 4-4 dual meet season and placed second in a triangular meet with Concord and Goshen. Under the leadership of coach Harry Ganser, Jackson placed fourth in both the Northern Indiana Valley Conference and All-City meets.

Senior Greg Nall held the season record for the 100-yard dash with 9.9 seconds. He also took the 220-yard dash with a time of 22.0 seconds flat. Another record-holder, Dean Reinke, ran the two-mile in the time of 10:09.1.

The team returns this year after the loss of five seniors. Last year's team contained 14 award winners. For statistics and team picture see pages 146-147.

CUTS, SCRAPES, AND BRUISES are a common occurrence to Tiger trackmen. Jeff Troeger winces as Andy Siri administers first aid.

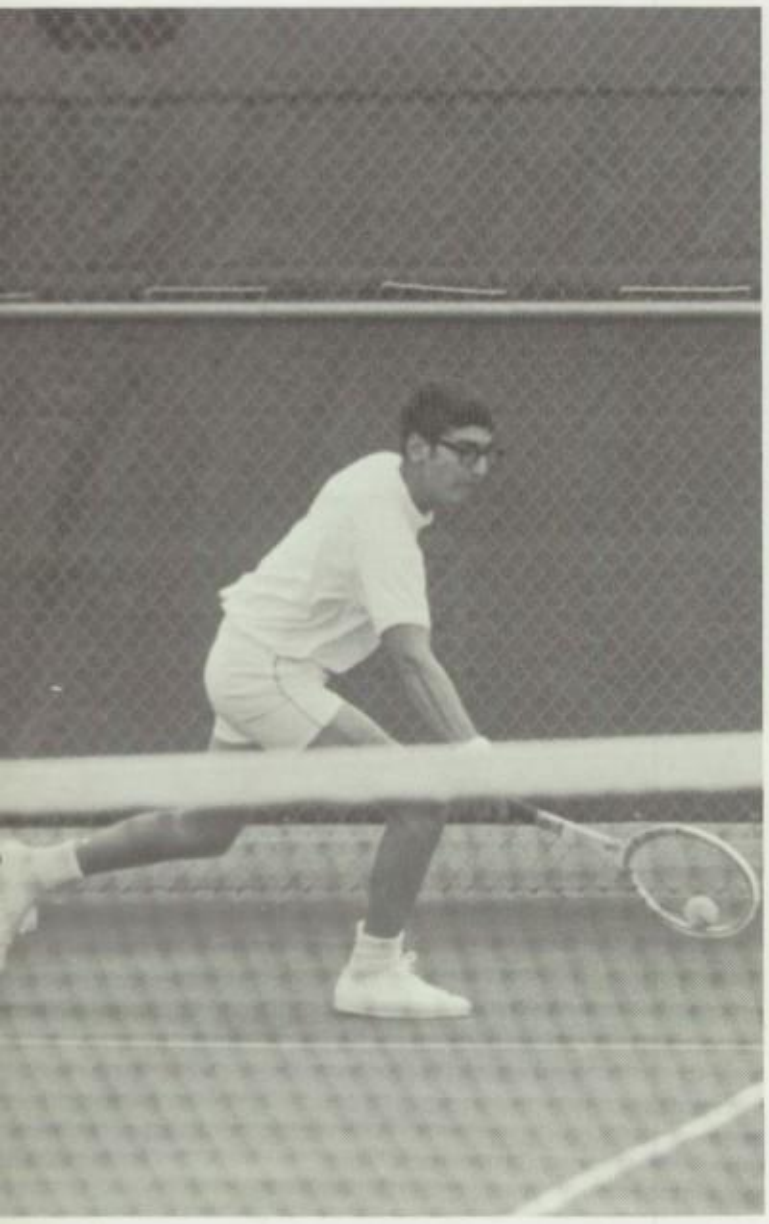
READY for the last stretch, Rick Staldine takes off in the 440 relay.

Tennis Team Nets Best Season So Far

Netting the best season in JHS history, the 1969 tennis team tallied a 3-9 record.

Coach David Dunlap worked with the six team members throughout the summer months in preparation for the September schedule.

The number one man, Gary Foster paced the team during regular season play while junior Tom Everly was Jackson's only sectional winner. All but one starter will return next year. For statistics and team picture, see page 146.



IN AN EFFORT to outplay his opponent, Dave Fischgrund returns the ball.

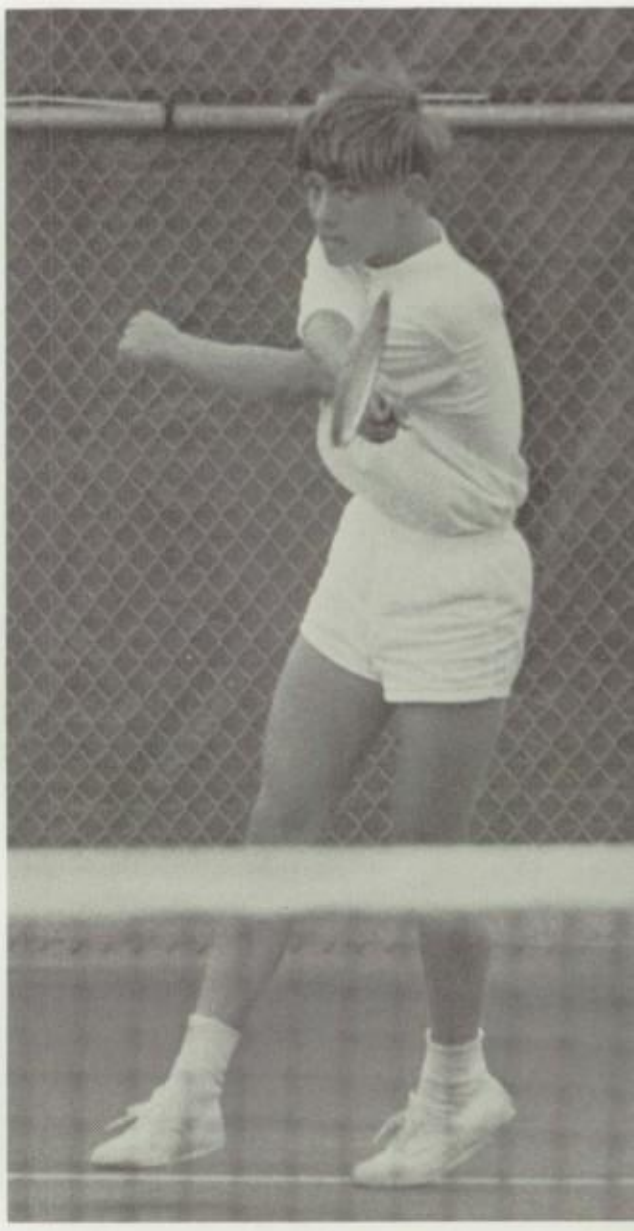
NUMBER ONE starter Gary Foster demonstrates his skill and agility.



STRUGGLING to up the score, Gary Midla smashes a volley over the net.

SPEED, stamina, and long legs are necessary for excellence in cross country. Junior Dean Reinke combines all three for a victory.

Reinke Paces Two-milers To Victory

Under the direction of head coach Larry Morningstar, the 1969 cross country team compiled a season record of eight wins and four losses.

Considered by many as one of the area's powerhouses, the team lost the running ability of captain Ken Reece. Reece suffered a back injury before the first meet and was out for the season.

Junior Dean Reinke led this year's team with first place ribbons at the New Prairie Invitational and the city meet. Reinke also nabbed second place in the sectional run and eighth in regional competition. For statistics and team picture, see page 147.

Tiger Squad Completes 4-4-1 Season.

"Pride" was on the lips of every sports fan as the 1969 Jackson gridiron crew took to the field.

After tieing the first game 6-6 with Riley, the Tiger team won their next three games and found themselves tied with Marian for the number-one spot in the Northern Indiana Valley Conference and once again owners of the traditional wagon wheel with La Salle.

Losing the next four games, the team ended the season by defeating North Liberty 32-0. For statistics and team picture, see page 149.

Basketball Team Shows Improvement

Co-captains Merle Carmichael and Brian T'Kindt led the Tiger basketball squad through a rough rebuilding year. The transfer of high scorer John Rosenbaum to Jackson barely helped head coach Bob Taylor's varsity squad through the 7-14 season, due to the lack of height and experience.

Things improved, however, as we entered the sectional and defeated Argos, 63-55. The Tigers went on to the semi-final round, but were beaten by John Glenn. Five varsity players will return next year.

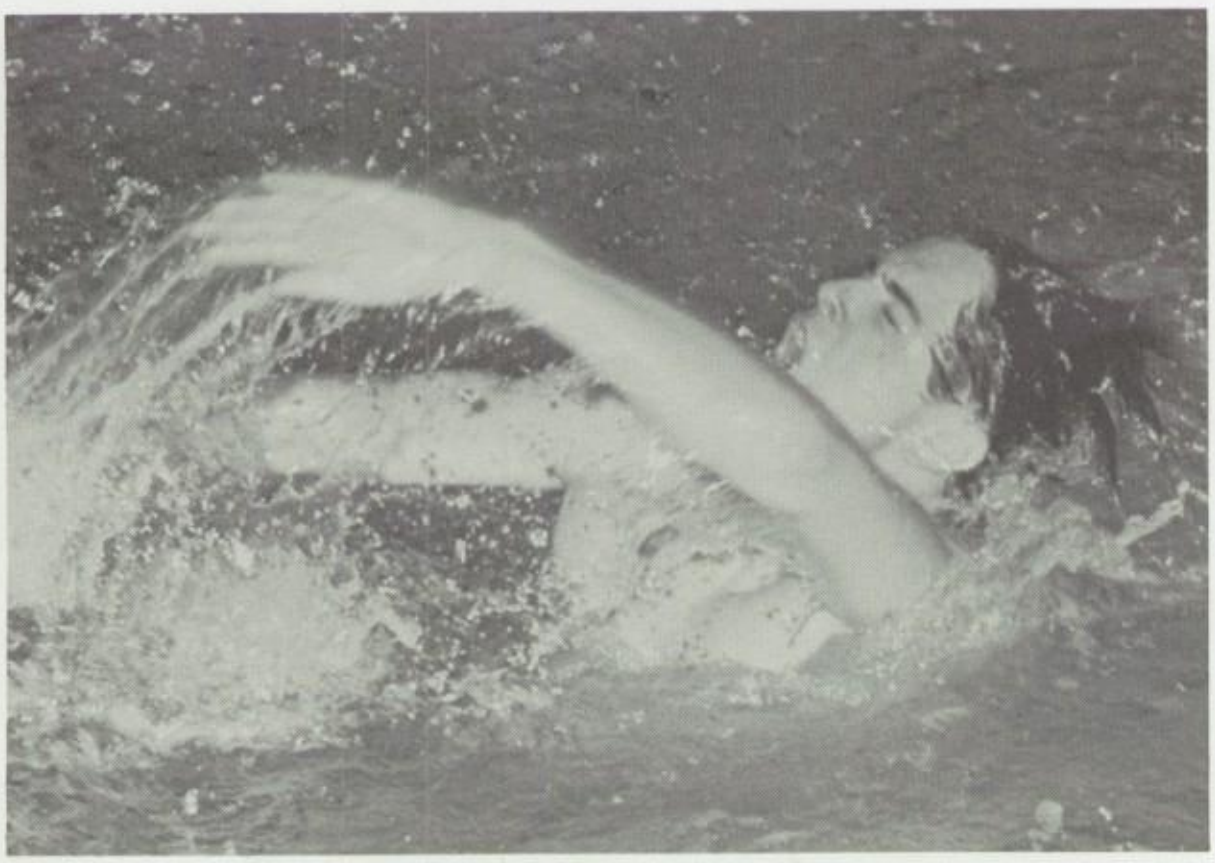
NIVC; Extend Dual Winning Streak to 31



CO-CAPTAIN Jim Oakley comes out of a turn for another lap of his 200-yard specialty. He owns that school record and is a member of the state champion relay team.

Winners of 31 consecutive dual meets over the last three seasons, the 1969-70 Tigerfish swam to Sectional and Conference titles and to third place in the state meet held at Ball State University in February. The meet's highlight for most of the 100 Jackson fans who followed the team to Muncie was the final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, which was won by the Tigerfish in a state record-breaking 3:21.4.

Coached by Mr. Dave Dunlap, the 18 varsity swimmers worked out three hours a day, from October to February, and by the end of the season had broken all but two school records.

As expected, the rivalry with Adams provided the most excitement. A dual meet was won by Jackson, 50 to 45; and in the City meet Adams came out ahead, 100 to 99.5. For team picture and records, see page 152.

Wrestlers Compile Winning Record as

Starting the season with three straight losses, the wrestling team under Coach Dale Rems fought back and scored a 5-4-1 season record, for second place in the NIVC conference.

Bob Shonkwiler, Jackson heavyweight, starred throughout the season and compiled a 24-1 record. Winning the sectional in his weight division, Bob advanced to Portage, Ind., for regional matches; pinned his first opponent, but fell in the final match. For statistics and team picture see page 148.

Golfers Take Title; New Coach Named

In their second year of competition, the Jackson golf team compiled a 13-1-2 season record for first place in the NIVC race.

The crew started the season by winning six straight matches before tieing their next two with Marian and Clay. They then went on to win their remaining matches except one.

Doug Vyverberg snatched the Junior City Championship for the second year while teammate Howie Bucher was medalist in the South Bend Jaycee tournament. Returning lettermen in 1970 had a new coach, Mr. Joe Kreitzman.

Rifle Team In Regional Competition

In addition to varsity sports at Jackson is the rifle team, open to both boys and girls. The marksmen, sponsored by the South Bend Recreation Department, participated in a state junior rifle match at Culver and then went into regional play at Michigan City. Feminine participants were Shelley Wiley, Roberta Mortensen, and Linda Pore.

Swim Team,

JHS girls were involved in two competitive sports: swimming and volleyball. Under the direction of Coach Sandra Link and co-captains Becky Avrett and Debbie Lytle, the swim team completed another successful season. The girls were required to swim 2800 yards a night and to attend Saturday practices as well as others during the week. For team picture and record, see page 129.

GAA members again formed a volleyball team which played against others in the city. In addition, they enjoyed such inter-squad sports as golf, basketball, and softball.

Custodians, Cooks Keep JHS Running

Arriving early in the morning and leaving late at night, the custodial and kitchen staffs are an integral part of our world.

The custodians, headed by Mr. John Papp, not only sweep the halls after each period, empty wastebaskets, and wax the floors whenever they need it, but also offer friendly advice and a warm smile to passing students. The night shift takes care of maintenance problems during the night.

The cooks, headed by Mrs. Eileen Stevens, prepare daily meals for hungry Jacksonites, while Mrs. Amelia Solomon takes care of laundry duty.

DAY CUSTODIAL STAFF: Ed Zielinski, Robert Strong, Louise Wynn (matron), Oscar Brandenburg, John Papp.

LAUNDRESS Amelia Solomon repairs uniforms and towels used by gym classes.

Diplomas

Leaving their world at Jackson High School, seniors enter new worlds of college, business, and homemaking. But they can look back to this world with pride—"Senior Pride."

The Class of '70 left behind it many new traditions. Bob Shonkwiler was crowned first Homecoming King, along with Queen Shelley Wiley. A large anchor will serve as a trophy for the winner of each coming Riley-Jackson basketball game. And many classmates devoted their Veterans Day vacation to the first co-ed football game.

Juniors Prepare To Go 'Upperclass'

A UNIQUE GROUP, the juniors capture honors and win awards. Heading the class are Connie Pacay, social chairman; George Woolley, vice president; Bill Sharp, president; Gretchen Woodcox, secretary; and Gary Midla, treasurer.

Three years of their high school life finished, juniors can look back and remember experiences, some nostalgic, some painful. Traditions were started, friends were made and subjects studied.

The class of '71 again won the annual hall-decorating contest. This class was the first to hold its Junior Prom outside the school, and Junior homeroom 218 collected 261 pounds of canned goods to win the Thanksgiving Basket Drive.

School spirit abounded as juniors were participants in sports, theatrical presentations, and other school organizations. Academics were not overlooked, however; and 37 juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society last fall.

Uncertain of what the future holds, juniors seek to fulfill their lives by replacing the apathetic views of yesterday with a fresh new awareness of our world.

Sophomores Sing, Sell Christmas Seals

Second year citizens of Jackson, sophomores began to feel a part of high school life. Actively involved in all aspects of the school, sophomores discover that added activities create added work. Sports, homework, and club meetings fill after-school hours.

Sophomores were probably most guilty of annoying the freshmen after having endured the ordeal last year. Sophs participated in the glee club and varsity band. They created "Tiger Country" during the annual hall-decorating contest. Members of the class of '72 gained the added status and prestige of having classes that ended in II instead of I this year. Many signed up for science courses and a second year of math.

PREPARATION for the annual class dance kept Soph class officers busy. Left to right, they are, Greg Landry president, Mari Cook vice president, Judy Kinney secretary, and Steve Wechter treasurer. Not pictured is social chairman Bob Peterson.

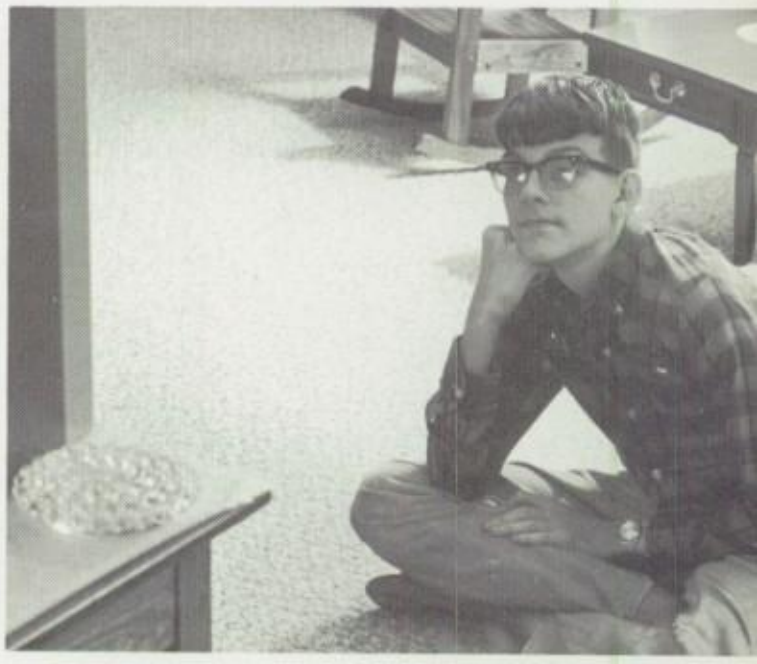
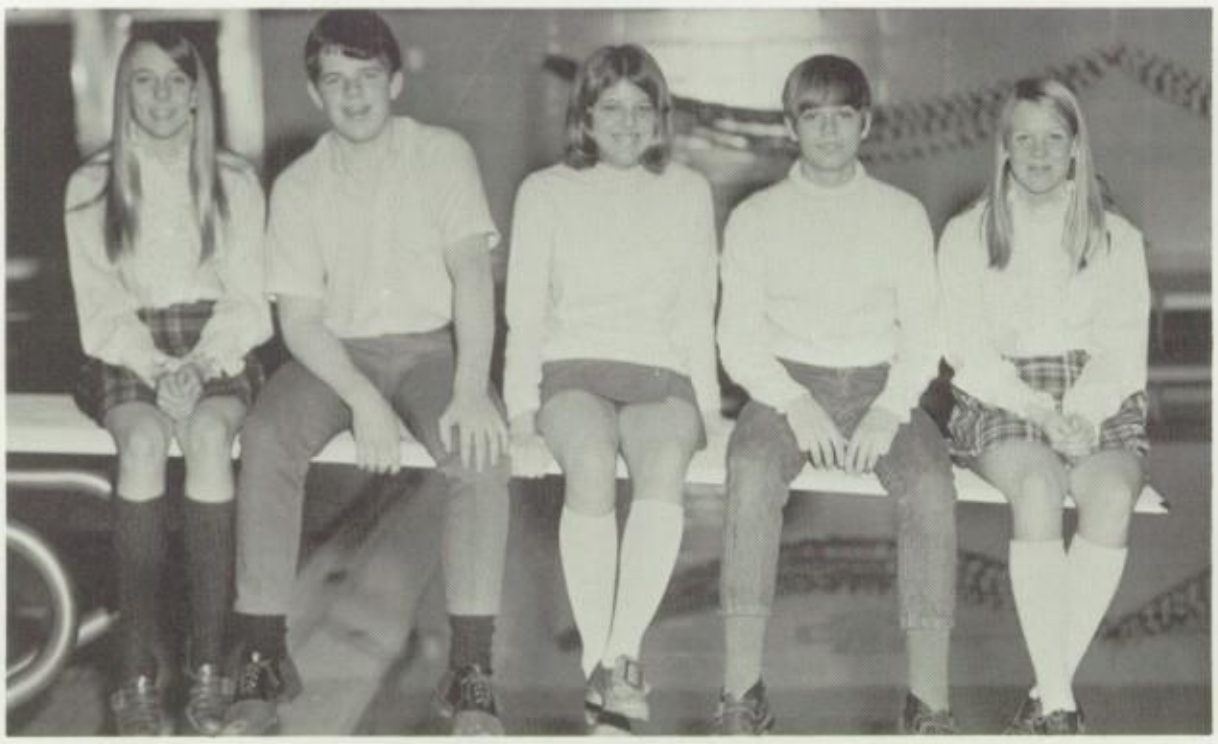
ON JULY 20th, 1969, Neil Armstrong became the first man on the moon. Many JHSers, including Michael Merrick, watched the event.



Freshmen Prove to Be 'Go-getters'



FRESHMEN OFFICERS Nancy Kennedy, social chairman; Jet Taylor, president; Karen Crowel, secretary; Terry Bartell, vice-president; and Jean Kennedy, treasurer, led their class throughout the year's activities.

When school opened in September, returning students found Jackson overrun with them. Yes, the new freshmen were here to start their four-year term. They seemed to be getting into everything.

Even though the frosh again failed to find the elevator, this year they did succeed in gaining members in the pep and dance bands and in publications.

In this, their first year, frosh at JHS learned many valuable things which will aid them throughout their high school careers. They learned the meaning of Jackson pride. They learned to accept new responsibilities. In short, they began to learn what life in our world was all about.

Human Relations Club Started; SC Liberates Student 'Body'

TENDING the Student Council book store gives Bill Witt a chance to study.

The recommendation to the Administrative Council for a new dress code was the major accomplishment of this year's Student Council. No restrictions were placed on students' apparel unless their fashions "present a clear and present danger to the student's health and safety, cause an interference with work, create classroom or school disorder, or are considered indecent in terms of normal standards." The Council treasury increased with the help of book store sales and a spring dance.

Interested students helped to establish a Human Relations Club dedicated to improving relationships between the races.

Members of the Ushers Club contributed their services to the school by ushering at basketball games and at the two plays.

Student Assistants Give Time and Help

Many Jackson students gave up their valuable study hall time to help in various departments of the school.

The students who worked in the cafeteria washed dishes and helped serve food.

The librarians were available to help find that certain book so badly needed.

Jackson Instructional Materials members helped provide audio-visual aids which supplemented the school curriculum.

Office workers could be seen collecting attendance, t a k i n g phone messages, and doing odd jobs.

The time and work put in by these students helped to make Jackson a smoothly-run school.

Staffs Seek To Maintain High Ratings

"Have the papers come in yet?" "Is this layout all right or does it reek just like the other fifty-seven I did before?" Quotes like these were familiar to the Old Hickory and Jacksonian staffs.

Both staffs, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Lois Claus, worked to maintain All-American ratings.

In addition to the yearbook, the newspaper, and the Student Directory, the staffs published swimming and basketball brochures. Betti Reece edited swimming and Mike Rader basketball.

Jackson Wins Honors In Instrumental Music

DRUM MAJOR Jeff Bayman prepares for a football pre-game show.

For band members school started early this year. In August, while everyone else was busy swimming, Jackson's marching band was parading up and down the parking lot to the whistles of drum major Jeff Bayman and assistant Dave Stroop. After football season, the 120-piece group began preparation for the winter concert in December. In February, solo and ensemble contest kept the band busy, and as usual they brought back many honors to the school.

Band director Mr. Tom DeShone welcomed a new assistant director, Mr. Frank Amussen.

The orchestra, under the directorship of Mr. Harold Kottlowski, also participated in solo and ensemble contests. The group, consisting of 20 members, played for the National Honor Society induction in November and also presented a portion of the winter concert.

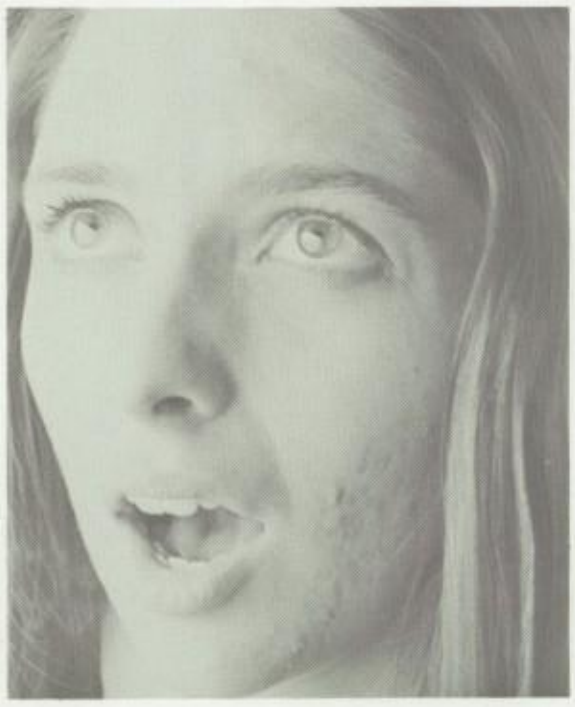
A new tradition was set this year with a fall National Honor Society induction. This gave the senior inductees a chance to participate in the activities all year.

Members of the Social Service Club collected such items as soap and Kool-aid to send to servicemen in Viet Nam. The girls also gave the annual party for patients at the St. Joseph County Home.

Under the direction of Mr. Woody Emmons, the stage crew helped design and build the sets for "The Enchanted" and "Babes in Arms."

Choral Department Adds New Group

MICHELLE GEOFFROY tries for a high note during Glee Club rehearsal.



Every morning at 7:10 the Jackson chorus rooms begin to fill with sleepy sopranos and tired tenors.

This year a new group was added to the vocal music department. The Girls' Ensemble was organized and took its place along with the Choraliers and the Glee Club. The three groups presented a Christmas program of religious and secular music, and another concert in the spring.

With the growth of the choral department came a continuance of excellent vocal music under the direction of Mr. Dan Miller.

JHS'ers Learn, Within and Without

It's a half-and-half world—in school in the morning and on the job in the afternoon—for 79 JHS students who chose to take the vocational cooperative educational program. Thirty-four who belong to DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) leave school at noon for jobs in sales and sales-supporting occupations.

The 31 in VICA (Vocational and Industrial Clubs of America) work in technical and industrial jobs.

The third arm of the program, COE (Cooperative Office Education) enrolls 14 girls, all employed in the community in a secretarial capacity. Members of all the clubs may compete in state contests.

Membership in the Future Secretaries club is open to girls in all grades who would like a secretarial career.

SENIORS Nancy Hopewell, Vicki Porman, Mark Pendl, and Julie Kinner combine a half day of school with occupational experience.

Language Clubs Promote Note Card Sale

The four language clubs joined together to sell Jackson High School note cards in order to raise funds to finance a trip to Chicago.

Spanish Club members were hosts to ten Mexican students while they visited the United States for two weeks. Besides showing them around the school and the city, the club held a picnic at Potawatomi Park for their guests.

The annual Roman banquet in March brought out the creative side of Latin Club members as they modeled the latest in homemade togas.

Both French and German Clubs prepared exhibits to be displayed in the showcase.

Homesites Developed by Albert Nall

The community in which we live is a growing one.

Businesses in the area surrounding Jackson have contributed greatly to the community expansion. Many new developments are being erected to accommodate this growth.

Mr. Albert Nall is one of the many people responsible for developing new homesites. Mr. Nall started Crest Manor, Fairfax Estates, and Marshall Heights. All three areas are centrally located with schools, churches, and shopping centers nearby.

CREST MANOR offers homes of distinction. Phone Al Nall, ENCO 291-0061.

RICK HAMMOND prefers being "shorn" at BROADMOOR BARBER SHOP, 4328 Miami Street, because he knows it is not a garden-variety establishment.

MARK SICKMILLER finds ESLINGER TELEVISION and Sales Service, 2701 Michigan, has comfortable floors as well as turned-on TV's.

MODELING THE LATEST IN FASHIONS at THE WISHING WELL, 1430 Calvert Janet Gerencser receives wishful looks from Pam Tetzlaff and Cindy Fozo.

AT MIAMI FLORIST AND GIFT SHOP 2208 S. Miami, Linda Grenert admires distinctive gifts. Phone 287-2811.

CHEERLEADERS Carol Rzeszewski, Lisa Heller, (in car), Chris Seaborg, Kitty Gates, and Holly Heemstra have much to cheer about while riding in a 1970 Monte Carlo from GATES CHEVROLET, 333 W. Western Ave.

"Thus we conclude another year of the same old trash."—Gil Sharon.

We would like to express our appreciation and thanks to Mr. Gene Zehring of Zehring Studios, Mr. Lowell Ward of National School Studios, Mr. Dick Kennard of Newsfoto Yearbooks, the South Bend Tribune, the Chicago Tribune, the sports publicity department of Notre Dame, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and Mrs. Lois Claus, our sponsor, without whom this yearbook would not have been possible.

And so we bring to a close the world of Andrew Jackson High School '69-'70. We sincerely hope that you have enjoyed it.
